Drop plastic straw ban for a year, says industry

Amul says paper straws can't be a viable alternative in the near term as their supply is very limited at present. The Centre's ban on single-use plastics, including plastic straws, is set to take effect on July 1. The Gujarat Cooperative Milk Marketing Federation, which makes Amul products, requested the Centre to give it one year to set up facilities to make paper straws, which are not available in adequate quantities in domestic and international markets.

Prez poll date out, Murmu leads race in NDA

July 18 date set for elections, counting on July 21 if required; Kovind retires on July 24

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

Draupadi Murmu

Arif Mohammad Khan

Rajnath Singh

Anandiben Patel

WITH the Election Commission on Thursday setting the ball rolling for Presidential elections on July 18, crystal gazing has begun within the ruling NDA on the likely successor to President Ram Nath Kovind, whose tenure ends on July 24.

There is speculation within the corridors of power that Prime Minister Narendra Modi would pick a tribal or a Muslim candidate for the highest office of the land. The names doing the rounds include former governor Draupadi Murmu (Jharkhand), serving governors Arif Mohammed Khan (Kerala), Anandiben Patel (UP), Anusuiya Uikey (Chhattisgarh), Thawar Chand Gehlot (Karnataka) and defence minister Rajnath Singh.

Murmu is said to be leading the race because she belongs to a tribal community and was the first governor in Jharkhand to complete a five-year term. She has good equations with not just Modi and the RSS but also with NDA allies. Murmu belongs to a Santal tribe in Odisha. "As the BJP has started increasing its outreach to the tribal voters ahead of the polls in six states and the next LS elections, the possibility of a tribal candidate can't be ruled out," a senior BJP leader said.

The other candidate in the race is Arif Mohammad Khan, specially in the wake of the diplomatic blowback from the Muslim world against the recent hate speech by a couple of BJP functionaries. "Both the names carry much political and electoral significance for the BJP. Murmu coul become India's first tribal woman President, if Arif Khan is considered for the post of vice president," said a BJP source.

Another name in the reckoning is Ansuiya Uikey, from poll-bound Madhya Pradesh. She belongs to a scheduled tribe.

Though Anandiben Patel's name is also in circulation, her chances are very slim as she hails from Gujarat. "How can both the PM and the President belong to the same state? This has a very little chance of her making it," a former party MP remarked.

K'taka to elect four members to RS today

Bengaluru: Karnataka is all set to elect four members to the Rajya Sabha on Friday. While the BJP has the numbers to win two seats comfortably and the Congress one seat, there is a tough fight on the cards for the fourth seat. The parties, especially the JDS, have their own apprehensions about cross-voting by their MLAs. The winning candidate has to get 45 votes to win a Rajya Sabha seat. While three candidates have the numbers, the fourth seat will depend on second preferential votes. P4

Banks up lending rates, Kotak hikes deposit rate

RAM SAHGAL @ Mumbai

HOURS after RBI hiked rates at which it lends to commercial banks, the ICICI Bank, Bank of India and Federal Bank raised their EMIs on floating rate home loans with immediate effect. A day after, on Thursday, Punjab National Bank, Bank of Baroda followed suit. On the flip side, Kotak Mahindra Bank gave investors relief by raising deposit rates.

ICICI Bank hiked its external benchmark lending rate by 50 bps to 8.6%. This would raise the EMI on a ₹30 lakh home loan, payable over 20 years, to ₹26,244.88 from ₹25,280.23.

Bank of India raised its external benchmarked rate to 7.75% while RBL Bank raised it to 10%. Bank of Baroda increased its repo linked rate to 7.4%. PNB raised its repo linked lending rate to 7.4% from 6.9%. Federal Bank raised home loan rates up to ₹30 lakh for the salaried class to 8.55% and to 8.6% for those in the ₹30-75 lakh bracket. HDFC Ltd, too, increased its prime lending rate on housing loans by 50 basis points with effect from June 10.

For many borrowers, their obligations will only rise. This is because the share of external benchmark linked loans in total outstanding loans of scheduled commercial banks has risen to almost 40% while the share of loans linked to the base rate and MCLR has declined. P13

Centre advises state to increase testing, contain Covid spread

CHETANA BELAGERE @Bengaluru

THE Union Health Ministry has sent out letters to five states, including Karnataka, asking them to follow a five-fold strategy and amp up testing. States that are closely being monitored are Kerala, Karnataka, Maharashtra, Telangana and Tamil Nadu.

The letter instructs states to monitor clusters of new Covid cases and ensure that the spread of infection is contained. The five-fold strategy i.e Test-Track-Treat-Vaccine and Covid Appropriate Behaviour should be followed.

Karnataka on Thursday reported 471 cases, and the positivity rate increased to 2.14 per cent. Bengaluru clocked 458 cases, and has 2,776 active cases. As per BBMP Covid-19 War Room data, ten wards are reporting maximum number of cases -- Bellandur (41), Doddanekkundi (15), Varthur (12), Hagadur (11), Kadugodi (9), HSR Layout (7), Begur (7), Hoodi (8), Horamavu (6) and Garudacharpalya (6).

The number of clusters is increasing, with a total of seven clusters in the city, a majority of which are from apartments in Mahadevapura area. "Genome samples have to be taken from these clusters on priority basis. The state has been asked to maintain an adequate number of tests and send samples from infected individuals for genome sequencing," an official from the department said.

Confirming the instructions, Health Commissioner Randeep D said, "After the recent meeting of the Technical Advisory Committee, we have increased testing targets to 30,000. While the target for Bengaluru will be 20,000, it has been increased to 10,000 in other districts." CONTINUED ON: P3

₹2 cr cash, but no train ticket, man in police net

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Karwar

THIS man was carrying ₹2 crore cash but strangely did not buy a ticket while boarding a train. His lapse landed him in the custody of police who seized the cash that was meant to be delivered in Mangaluru as part of a hawala transaction. The accused is Jen Singh alias Manohar Singh from Varanwa village in Jallor taluk in Suntra district of Rajasthan who boarded the Mangaluru-bound train at Chatrapathi Shivaji Maharaj Terminus in Mumbai without a ticket on June 8, 2022.

A ticket collector informed Chief Vigilance officer, H K Prasanna, Konkan Railway Corporation Limited, after he found Jen travelling ticketless. Inspector Vipin Singh Rana was alerted and based on a complaint filed by him, the Karwar Rural Police (KRP) took Jen into custody and seized the cash from him. Rana had searched Jen's bag and found ₹2 crore cash, all in ₹2,000 denomination currency notes, and handed him over to the local police after the train reached Shirawada Railway Station in Karwar. The KRP questioned him about the money and after he failed to give convincing answers, arrested him. A case has been registered.

Muslim body sends old records to boost Idgah Maidan claim

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BACKING its claim on Idgah Maidan grounds, the Central Muslim Association (CMA), Karnataka, on Thursday submitted documents and records to the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP).

The CMA's submission included the Supreme Court order and the official gazette notification issues of 1965 by the Mysore State Board of Wakfs to BBMP Special Commissioner Srinivasa S M.

"The land belongs to us, and we have given the records to the BBMP Special Commissioner as this will be an official record. Earlier, the court permitted only Ramzan and Bakrid prayers and allowed the place to be used as a playground for the public," said CMA general secretary Zaheeruddin Ahmed.

Confirming the receipt of documents from the CMA, Srinivas told The New Indian Express that these will be examined by experts from the BBMP's legal department.

"As per BBMP's 1972 records, it is established as municipality property, but since the organisation has sent documents, we will check them. In case the land belongs to the Wakf Board, they should get the Khata done," he said.

CMA claimed that the Idgah Maidan was registered as Wakf property under the Wakf Gazette Notification dated June 7, 1965. According the documents — copies of which are with TNIE — in the serial number bearing 137, the Idgah Sunni, Chamarajpet, measuring 2 acres and 5 guntas, is managed by the general secretary, Central Muslim Association of Karnataka, Bengaluru.

The land was originally 10.10 acres and was given to the CMA. There was a burial ground, too. But as Chamrajpet developed in the subsequent years, the burial ground was shifted and hence the total area shrunk, said the CMA.

The association mentioned that earlier the corporation was told by the second Munsif to restrain from entering the appellant land (Khaji Idgah). The then Bengaluru City Corporation then moved the High Court and also the Supreme Court, but its appeals were dismissed in 1959 and 1964.

Meanwhile, Hindu outfits sent proposals to the BBMP seeking permission to allow them to hold public events at the grounds, including International Yoga Day on June 21, Amrit Mahotsav between August 14 and August 22, and Independence Day on August 15. They claimed that the property belongs to the BBMP and the public should be allowed to use it for other purposes too.

BBMP sends delimitation draft to govt for approval

Document in two languages; 15 days time for raising objections

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE much-awaited BBMP delimitation draft has been sent to the government for approval. Confirming this on Thursday, BBMP Special Commissioner, Rangappa S said the Palike Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta has submitted the draft to Urban Development Department (UDD).

"The draft was earlier sent to UDD, but it was sent back to us asking for more clarity and they also wanted it in two languages — English and Kannada. The existing 198 wards were delimited based on the existing population enumerated according to the 2011 census," he said.

The BBMP and the government took up the exercise of delimitation after the Supreme Court set an eight-week deadline for the government to complete the ward delimitation and reservation for Other Backward Classes (OBC).

The Joint Legislature Committee, headed by C V Raman Nagar MLA S Raghu, has given recommendations to the BBMP. As per information available, the maximum population in each ward should not exceed 38,000 and no ward should fall under two assembly segments.

The draft will be examined and 15 days period will be given for people to raise objections. Once all is set, the State Election Commission can begin the election process. The exercise is being carried out to avoid confusion and to ensure smooth administration and execution of works.

A section of leaders from the opposition Congress and JDS had accused the ruling BJP of delimiting wards according to its whims and fancies. Some even alleged that MLAs from both ruling as well as opposition parties in the city were not interested in conducting the polls. The annual BBMP budget runs up to Rs 10,000 crore.

Even before the ward delimitation exercise is completed and model code of conduct for the polls is announced, aspirants have begun wooing voters. In HAL, aspirant S Ramesh arranged a Goa trip and threw a non-vegetarian feast. In Malleswaram, a cricket tournament is being organised by a Congress leader.

EV charging stations to come up on highways

ENS @Bengaluru

WITH the target of setting up electric vehicle (EV) charging stations across Karnataka defined, the Energy Department is now holding talks with authorities of the national and state highway and Public Works Department to set up charging stations on highways.

A department official said talks are also being held to identify land for setting up the stations. Energy Minister V Sunil Kumar said these are part of the target of setting up 1,008 charging stations across the state.

Officials said Bengaluru-Mysuru, Bengaluru to Hubballi-Dharwad and Bengaluru-Belagavi will be on the priority highway list for setting up charging stations. The aim is to start the exercise within three months.

Speaking on the sidelines of the launch of the EV Jagruthi web portal, a joint initiative of Niti-Ayog and the United Kingdom, Kumar said works were also on to ensure all government departments use EVs. The minister said the detailed project report has been prepared and sent to the Chief Minister for approval. The matter is also being discussed with the Finance Department as the cost of EVs is high.

BESCOM Managing Director P Rajendra Cholan said the vehicles will be brought on contract basis, similar to the ones it has now to start with. He clarified that no service charge is being levied on those charging vehicles except for the power and rent cost. At present, there are 136 charging stations in Bengaluru and 200 will come up within a month's time, he added.

British High Commissioner to India, Alex Ellis, said what India does now will reflect on the world's growth. "India is the 6th country to sign the Glasgow summit and Karnataka is the first state to come up with an EV policy," he said.

D S Roopkala led a team of architects comprising three women in designing the spectacular Sir M Visvesvaraya Terminal. With 17 years of experience under her belt, Roopkala is the proprietor of Bengaluru-based R R Architects and Associates. The team boasts of woman architects C S Reshma and K V Madhu, and interior designer Reethu M, besides two male structural engineers.

Roopkala was brimming with passion when she spoke to TNIE about her team's creative accomplishment. "Bengaluru is a technology hub and a land of opportunities. We wanted the station to beckon visitors with a positive message. The ambience is one of luxury and has a welcoming air to it for everyone. The air-conditioned lobby and posh waiting rooms add to the beauty and comfort of the passengers and visitors", she said, adding, the wooden benches and every other facility at the station has an aesthetic appeal, besides being classy and comfortable.

Railways wanted the team to design the station on the lines of Kempegowda International Airport (KIA) as it is distinct and recognised world over, Roopkala said. "Of course, we were inspired by the design at the airport. Our team visited KIA before we commenced our work," she said.

The final output has drawn much appreciation, she says.

Mercury is a planet that has evaded consideration so far this week, yet it is now very gently beginning to work its peculiar magic. Allow your imagination to wander and be sure to pay attention to your dreams. Even at work, there could be a creative buzz.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
If there's one sort of person you can't stand, it's those who go around spouting their dogmatic opinions at you. I'm only saying this because there's a high probability that someone is about to try and convert you to their cause. Just get on and do what you know is right.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)

Something at work is making you very emot-ional. Those of you with partners who are deeply immersed in professional struggles may find that your home life is starting to be affected, perhaps adversely but hopefully for the better. There does seem to be the chance for a personal fresh start, but first you have to dear an unexpected hurdle.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Continue with a course of action that is straight, decent, honest and practical. This is one time when your classic Virgoan qualities are to be treasured. Do what you must and defy any criticism. And do begin to try to get your costs under control.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Give yourself a break today. It's a time for pleasure and relaxation, for enjoying the company of younger people, children and loved ones. Don't let the daily routine swamp your capacity to have fun, and go out of your way to meet new, different, people.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You may be deeply wound up in your own problems, yet family members and people you live with need your attention as well. Do your best to see that everyone is perfectly happy and contented, and bide your time until you're ready to make your final choice.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)

Linking Metro line to TN, in initial stage: BMRCL MD

Says Karnataka govt has not yet given approval for the 19-km RV Road-Bommasandra line of Phase-II, set to launch next year

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TALKS on linking the RV Road-Bommasandra Line up to Hosur, Tamil Nadu, is at a nascent stage, and Tamil Nadu has been asked to undertake a feasibility study to explore the possibility of an extension of the Electronic City Metro station up to Hosur, said BMRCL Managing Director Anjum Parwez.

Speaking to The New Indian Express, Parwez said the Karnataka government has not given any approval for the same. "The MP from Krishnagiri had mooted the proposal. And the Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs (MoHUA) too had sent us a communication in this request. It is in a very preliminary stage and the state government has not given any approval for the line," he said.

Tamil Nadu needs to complete the study and submit the report to BMRCL after assessing its feasibility. "Details on who will fund the project, the specific model of Metro that can be put in place are among aspects that need to be explored," he added.

During a meeting of all Metro MDs in Pune on January 22, 2021, the Secretary of MoHUA had asked BMRCL to explore the possibility of Metro Neo connectivity in this segment. Metro Neo will have electric bus coaches with rubber tyres which are lighter and smaller than conventional Metro coaches. It will run on elevated roads and draw power from an overhead electric wire similar to railways.

The 19-km RV Road-Bommasandra Line (Reach-5) line of BMRCL's Phase-II is set for launch next year.

Krishnagiri MP Dr A Chellakumar had claimed to newspersons in his constituency on Wednesday that Karnataka has given the nod for a 20.5-km line from Bommasandra to Hosur. He said that thousands of people in Hosur, who commute regularly to Bengaluru for work, stand to benefit if this line is launched.

A communication from the BMRCL MD to the Secretary, Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs on May 23 cited the request of Krishnagiri MP for extending Metro rail services from Bommasandra to Hosur.

The letter said,"Hosur in Tamil Nadu is around 20.5 km away from Bommasandra Metro terminal. Out of this additional length, 11.7 km falls within Karnataka and the balance of 8.8 km is in Tamil Nadu."

The corridor, if implemented, will travel between two states. "Hence, it requires much co-ordination between Karnataka and Tamil Nadu with sharing of the project cost and monetary support during operations for the public transport system connecting these two points."

State Urban Department officials did not respond to numerous calls in this connection.

Breakthrough infections recorded

THE number of tests is high in Bengaluru as a majority of cases are from the city.

Meanwhile, doctors say they are seeing breakthrough infections, some even after three shots of vaccine. "In the last week or so, there has been an uptick in patients with acute respiratory viral-like illness symptoms. Most are reporting fever, cough and cold, and stuffy nose. Some are testing positive for Covid, but luckily, their symptoms are mild," Dr Sachin Kumar, Senior Consultant, Pulmonology and Critical Care Medicine, Sakra World Hospital, said.

However, Randeep clarifies that so far there has not been a "clear indication as yet" on any new variant. Warning that though there aren't many patients coming in with Covid at Manipal Hospital, Dr Satyanarayana Mysore, HOD and Consultant, Pulmonology, Manipal Hospital, says, "We are noticing numbers nationwide seem to be high. It must be kept in mind numbers may increase, and further rise with increase in testing. We at Manipal have n't seen a huge number of cases, but those who come with Covid have mild symptoms."

Two ask bike-lifter for help, stabbed

PRAVEEN KUMAR @Bengaluru

A 21-year-old final year BBA student and his friend were stabbed repeatedly by a biker who was escaping on a stolen bike near Laggere area.

The accused had hit a pedestrian and the two victims chased and stopped him, asking him to take the pedestrian to the hospital.

Little did they know that the biker had stolen the vehicle. The accused, scared that he has been caught, drew a knife from a pouch and stabbed the duo repeatedly, and escaped abandoning the vehicle. The accused has reportedly been released from jail in another case.

The duo were heading towards a function a few days back, and around 7pm-8pm at Chowdeshwarinagar on Laggere Main Road they saw a pedestrian sitting on the pavement after being hit by a biker. The victim, residents of Laggere, took the keys of the bike on which the accused was escaping. "We identified the pedestrian as Srinivas. It was dark and we didn't notice he (biker) had a knife. He first stabbed my friend in his abdomen and left hand. When I rushed to help my friend, I was stabbed in my left thigh," the student told TNIE on condition of anonymity.

The student received 17 stitches and has been discharged. His friend is still undergoing treatment at a private hospital. "The 27-year-old accused has been arrested. He is wanted in another case and resides near RG Nagar," said an officer. A case of attempt to murder has been registered.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

FORMER minister and Mahadevapura BJP MLA Aravind Limbavali's daughter was on Thursday involved in a fracas after traffic police stopped her car on Raj Bhavan Road. She allegedly argued with the policemen and also tried to slap a video journalist of a regional TV channel, who was recording the incident.

When the police stopped the woman's BMW, she got down and began arguing, and the cops told her not to speak rudely. She questioned why they were imposing a fine for overtaking a senior police officer's vehicle, and claimed that she was travelling in an MLA's car. To this, the police asked her for the identity of the MLA. "Have you heard Aravind Limbavali's name? I am his daughter," she replied.

She also shouted at a friend who tried to intervene. Noticing the incident was being recorded, she charged at a video journalist, abused him and tried to slap him. Police slapped a penalty for violations of several traffic rules. When she claimed she had no money, and asked police to send the notice home, her friend paid the fine.

DECISION TO TRIM STATE ANTHEM DURATION IN 15 DAYS

ENS @ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING prolonged discussion, the state government is now working on trimming the state anthem's duration to 2.40 minutes.

Kannada and Culture Minister V Sunil Kumar told TNIE the proposal is before Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and the final decision will be announced within 15 days.

Speaking on the sidelines of the launch of the electric vehicle charging portal in the city on Thursday, Kumar said the opinions and recommendations by the two committees of Ananthaswamy and C Vishwanath are similar -- the anthem will be completed in 2.40 mins. The matter has been discussed at length, he said.

Reacting to this, president of Kannada Development Authority, T S Nagabharna told TNIE that they did not mind if verses were removed. However it was not required because if the repetitions and the tunes are removed, the duration will be reduced below 2.30 minutes. He also added that there is no need to sing the anthem fast to avoid spoiling the ragas.

Nagarbharna also said the authority has been running an experiment on its website asking people to sing the Nada Geethe. People have been able to complete the anthem within 2.30 minutes.

Earlier, authority members and some experts had also recommended the anthem be reduced to 2.10- 2.15 mins and it was accepted by many.

High-voltage RS polls today; All eyes on battle for 4th seat as Cong, JDS continue to spar

RAJYA SABHA POLLS

BJP banking on cross votes, JDS moves around 20 of its legislators to star hotel

Nirmala, Jaggesh, Jairam sure of win

DEVARAJ HIREHALLI@ Bengaluru

Preparations ahead of Rajya Sabha polls at Vidhana Soudha in Bengaluru on Thursday | ASHISHKRISHNA HP

KARNATAKA is set to elect four members to the Rajya Sabha on Friday -- the BJP will get two seats and Congress one seat, and there is a tough fight on the cards for the fourth seat. The parties, especially the JDS, have apprehensions about cross-voting by their MLAs.

Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, renominated for the second consecutive term from Karnataka, and actor-turned-politician Jaggesh are fielded as first and second candidates by the BJP, and are certain to win with 45 MLA votes allotted to each of them. The victory of Congress nominee and former Union minister Jairam Ramesh, nominated for the second consecutive term, is also certain.

As soon as the Congress fielded its second candidate, Mansur Ali Khan, son of former Union minister K Rahman Khan, despite having only 25 votes (including one independent), it sent out a message that it is unlikely to go with the JDS. The BJP, with 32 surplus votes, has fielded outgoing MLC Lehar Singh Siroya as its third candidate.

The JDS, which fielded former Rajya Sabha member Kupendra Reddy, has 32 surplus votes, but its efforts to get support from the Congress have not borne fruit. Former prime minister H D Deve Gowda's attempt to convince the Congress that secular parties should join hands to defeat the BJP, went in vain. As of Thursday, neither the Congress nor the JDS had blinked over the probable tie-up. Instead, CLP leader Siddaramaiah and JDS leader H D Kumaraswamy traded charges over each other's secular credentials.

Meanwhile, the JDS shifted around 20 of its MLAs to a star hotel in the city to check any poaching by rival parties. "We had to make this move because of the Congress' dirty politics. Siddaramaiah is pressurising our MLAs as his agenda is to defeat the JDS," Kumaraswamy alleged.

What irked him was Siddaramaiah writing an open letter to JDS MLAs to cast their conscience vote for the Congress candidate, to retain their secular credentials. "We have put up a minority leader as candidate and the people of the state are closely watching," he said.

"It's a shame that Siddaramaiah had branded JDS the 'B' team of the BJP during the 2018 assembly polls. The results of the RS polls will throw light on which party is the 'B' team," Kumaraswamy said. He also claimed that it was because of former chief minister B S Yediyurappa's stand not to field a BJP candidate against Deve Gowda during the last RS polls, that the Congress had followed suit.

RS SEAT FORMULA

A candidate has to get 45 votes to win a Rajya Sabha seat, as per formula. Three members will be elected with ease, but for the fourth seat, second preferential votes will come into effect. The BJP, with 32 surplus votes, is banking on some cross votes. The fourth candidate who fetches more first preferential votes will have an edge, as the one who garners the least number will be eliminated from the count of second preferential votes.

If JDS is secular, it must vote for Congress, says MB Patil

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru/Hassan

FORMER Home Minister and KPCC campaign committee incharge MB Patil stated if the JDS is committed to secular values, they should support the Congress candidate in the Rajya Sabha elections, and added that its time for the regional party to return to power.

Addressing a joint press conference on Thursday, with Krishna Byregowda, and others he demanded the JDS consider the sacrifice made by Congress in the past election and support its candidate in the Rajya Sabha polls.

"During the previous election, considering the contribution of JDS supremo and former PM HD Deve Gowda, the party supported him to get elected to the Rajya Sabha. The sacrifice made by the Congress needs to be considered now. Our candidate Mansoor Khan has met Deve Gowda and has appealed for his cooperation," said Byregowda.

Patil said it is time for JDS to prove their secular credentials by supporting the minority candidate. He exuded confidence of winning majority seats in the upcoming MLC polls and said, "The graduates and teachers who are fed up with the maladministration of BJP and have distanced themselves from the saffron party. We will be able to cross 150 seats in the assembly election," he said.

Efforts to retain power

Patil alleged that the state government has failed in financial management.

He said that the BJP leaders are making futile efforts to retain power by making bogus promises.

The Narendra Modi-led central government has failed to keep its promises and has plunged the country into huge unemployment while promises made to different sectors in various stages are yet to be fulfilled, he said.

Reiterating the 40 per cent allegation against the state government, Patil said that government has miserably failed to curb corruption which is rampant in all the departments. He urged the government to withdraw the revision of textbooks and asked the government to form a new textbook revision committee and revise the syllabus in the interest of the students.

'Govt insulted Basavanna, Ambedkar, CM must resign'

Ex-CM Siddaramaiah and KPCC chief DK Shivakumar along with Congress workers protest near Gandhi statue on Vidhana Soudha premises | ASHISHKRISHNA HP

CONTINUING its tirade against the state government over textbook revision, the Congress on Thursday accused the government of insulting social reformer Basavanna, the architect of Constitution BR Ambedkar and other great personalities. They demanded CM Basavaraj Bommai's resignation.

State Congress president DK Shivakumar, Opposition Leader Siddarmaiah and other senior Congress leaders, including the party legislators' staged a protest against textbooks revision and demanded the government reject Rohith Chakrathirta committee's recommendations.

Speaking to media persons, Shivakumar demanded Bommai's resignation for pushing the RSS agenda on textbooks, and added that the new textbooks should be scrapped as the revision committee distorted historical facts.

Shivakumar said Congress will continue to fight against injustice and urged other organizations, including the mutts, to raise their voice. The Congress leader said they will hold protests across taluks and villages and said they will also extend full support to other organizations protesting against textbook revision. Siddaramaiah said Congress is protesting against saffronisation of textbooks, and the party will decide on the next course of action if the government fails to reject Chakratirtha committee's recommendations.

Minister withdraws statement on textbook revision

BENGALURU : Even as officials from the Kannada and Culture and Education departments have started to talk writers and poets who were disgruntled over revision of textbooks, Minister Sunil Kumar on Thursday had to withdraw his remarks that changes in the textbook were a small issue and said that the flag issue was not small and this was being addressed by the Education department and that the CM had already spoken on it. With many litterateurs asking the government to remove their chapters and writings from the textbooks, some of the Kannada and Culture Department officials have started talking to the writers and poets.

GIRIJANA TRIBES

A tribal woman fetches water from a ground well

Lives untouched by govt schemes devoid of basic amenities

PRAJNA GR @ Madikeri

ALTHOUGH government schemes like the Jal Jeevan Mission and Swacch Bharat have huge promotions, they rarely benefit the downtrodden communities. A large population of a tribal community in Kodagu district is yet to receive the basic amenities and the tribal settlement near Dubare in Kushalnagar taluk is glaring proof of this deprivation.

The Girijana tribals settled near Dubare are daily wage workers and a majority of the men in these families serve as caretakers of tamed elephants in Dubare elephant camp. However, their families lead a miserable life with no basic facilities in sight.

While the settlement is located along river Cauvery, their fragile houses do not have water supply. Over a hundred families have been residing in the settlement for generations but are stuck in a bygone era with no electricity, water and toilet facilities. Many residents have dug ground wells by the riverside and use them. A few visit the Jungle Lodges resort located next to their settlement to fetch water.

A fragile house without basic facilities like water and electricity

"We cannot fetch water from the river as it is polluted due to increased tourist activities. Around three families stay in one house. While we have often approached the panchayat and officials from the ITDP department, our request for sanction of houses under government schemes is ignored. Solar lights were fitted a few years ago but they are dysfunctional now," shared Mani, Sidda and other residents of the settlement.

The tribes also lack toilet facilities and depend on the forest for their needs. With no education or healthcare facilities, these tribal people lead a pitiable life.

Ukraine crisis will result in global food, fuel, fertiliser crisis: Jaishankar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A prolonged Ukraine conflict will lead to a global crisis of three 'Fs' -- food, fuel and fertiliser. "The fertiliser shortage will impact the next harvest and lead to global hunger," said External Affairs Minister Dr S Jaishankar, during a discussion on 'Eight years of National Security' at the National Institute of Advanced Studies (NIAS) on Thursday. NIAS Director Dr Shailesh Nayak and former diplomat PS Raghavan were present.

"Some consequences of the Ukraine conflict are still unfolding. It can shift the global thinking on energy," Jaishankar said, while addressing the partner educational institutes of NIAS, research scholars and diplomats. He said India has faced some uncomfortable times at the United Nations regarding its stand on the ongoing conflict. "But we believe that cessation of fighting is the only way forward," he added.

POSTER CHILD OF INDIA

Jaishankar said he chose to speak on the issue of national security in Bengaluru because Karnataka is "one of the most progressive states in the country and is the poster child of India's modernity to the world".

He said he chose to speak about national security and not foreign policy because very often "we take the former for granted. Guarding of borders by soldiers or commandos alone is not national security. It is the very foundation of any development and progress of society". He said it is important to connect the dots -- the several initiatives taken by the Modi government like girls' education, skill development, Digital India, Atmanirbhar Bharat, Swacch Bharat, Ujjwala Yojana etc, to get a comprehensive picture of India's national security.

KTR hits out at Modi over failure to provide jobs

Accuses Centre of failing to attract investors

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad

ACCUSING Prime Minister Narendra Modi of miserably failing to create jobs, TRS working-president KT Rama Rao on Thursday demanded that the Union Government fill up 16 lakh vacant posts in the government sector.

In an open letter to Modi, Rama Rao said that Telangana received lakhs of crores of rupees in the form of investments through innovative and friendly industrial policies and the State Government created 16 lakh jobs in the private sector. "The Telangana government filled over 1.32 lakh government jobs in the state. The State Government will soon fill up another 1 lakh jobs in the government sector. We run a government that believes in action and not in mere slogans and lip service," Rama Rao wrote in his letter to the PM.

"Your inefficient decisions and ineffective economic policies led to loss of jobs, instead of creating new employment opportunities in the country," he wrote. He added that demonetisation and the Covid-19 lockdown impacted jobs and livelihood of the people in the country.

"There are only pakoda employment opportunities in the country today, all thanks to the inefficient policies of the Central government," he wrote. He accused the Union government of miserably failing to attract global investments to the country which could generate employment opportunities.

> You (Modi) have extended only lip service to Telangana during your recent visit. But not a penny was allocated to the State. At least now, give clarity on employment creation for the youth

Conduct fresh practical exam: HC to RGUHS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has directed the Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences (RGUHS) to conduct fresh practical examinations for the petitioners -- MBBS final year students – in the subjects mentioned by them within a period of three weeks. The students are studying in various medical institutes affiliated to RGUHS in Kalaburagi, Raichuru, Mangaluru, Shivamogga and Bengaluru.

Setting aside the practical/clinical examination result for the final year MBBS for the petitioners in subjects -- surgery, obstetrics and gynaecology, paediatricts and general medicine, Justice M I Arun passed the order while disposing a batch of petitions filed by several students who have succeeded in the theory examination but failed in the practical examination.

Contending that the practical examination has been conducted in violation of guidelines issued by the RGUHS, the petitioners sought the court's directions to set aside their results for the practical examination and direct the university to conduct a fresh one.

Crime reconstruction, potency test await minors

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

THE five-day police custody of three juveniles accused in the 17-year-old girl's gang rape case in Jubilee Hills will begin on Friday. During the custody, the three Children in Conflict with the Law (CCLs) will be questioned by a team of police officers in plainclothes on the premises of a juvenile home.

The Jubilee Hills police, while seeking the custody of the three CCLs, informed the Juvenile Justice Board (JJB) that their custodial questioning is needed to conduct a potency test, crime scene reconstruction. They would also try to extract more details about the chain of events that led to the offence and ascertain if more persons were involved in the offence as is being widely alleged.

A potency test is conducted by forensic experts to ascertain if the accused is capable of performing a sexual act or not.

Saduddin quizzed for 5 hrs

Meanwhile, Saduddin Malik, one of the accused in the case who was sent to a four-day police custody, was questioned at Jubilee Hills police station for about five hours on Thursday. However, Saduddin's replies were not to the satisfaction of the police. Police tried to extract some information from the accused, by producing the evidence gathered. The mobile phones of the accused, their clothes and other material have also been seized.

Police have decided to appeal before the JJB to try the CCLs as adults in view of the horrific nature of the case. This will be done after the investigation is completed and at the time of filing the chargesheet.

Ought to be tried as adults:, says Rama Rao

IT Minister KT Rama Rao welcomed the move of Telangana police to seek the trial of the minors involved in the case as adults. Responding to media reports, he tweeted, "If you are adult enough to commit a crime as heinous as rape, one must also be punished as an adult and not as a juvenile."

BAD ROADS: ACTIVIST URGES CS TO INVOKE STRINGENT LAW

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN the backdrop of citizens and business leaders venting their anger against the BBMP for not maintaining proper roads, a social activist on Thursday wrote to the Chief Secretary of Karnataka, Vandita Sharma urging her to invoke Section 198A of the Motor Vehicle Act against erring contractors/engineers.

If Section 198A MV Act is implemented by RTO/traffic police, the authorities can impose a penalty of up to Rs 1 lakh per bad stretch of road for failure to comply with standards of road design, construction and maintenance.

The activist H M Sadananda told TNIE that the office of chief secretary responded to him via email within 15 minutes stating that the secretary of the transport department has been directed to take necessary action in this regard.

Sadananda had filed an RTI application with the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways (MORTH), seeking available remedies under the law for proper maintenance of roads. "Implementation of provisions of Central Motor Vehicles Rule, 1989 (CMVRs) and Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 comes under the purview of State Transport Departments/UTs. You may, therefore, write to the notified public authority in the state/UT concerned for further requisite information," MORTH stated in its reply, prompting Sadananda to write to the CS.

He requested the CS to issue directions to authorities concerned to implement the Act across the state.

Sadananda also mentioned that Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand have already implemented the Section and while six cases have been booked in UP, one case was registered in Uttarakhand.

Prez polls: TRS waits for the third 'alternative'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ HYDERABAD

WITH the Election Commission of India (ECI) setting the ball rolling for the election of the new President, all eyes are now on what the strategy of TRS would be.

In all probability, the TRS may not support the Congress' candidate in the President's election and if the like-minded regional parties field a joint candidate, then the TRS may play ball.

TRS supremo K Chandrasekhar Rao of late is making all-out efforts to provide an alternative agenda for the country and also to promote the third alternative.

When Rao recently visited Bengaluru and had a meeting with former Prime Minister HD Deve Gowda, there was talk that Rao had proposed Deve Gowda as the candidate. The TRS chief also planned to meet social activist Anna Hazare in Ralegan Siddhi. There was talk that social activist Anna Hazare was not interested to contest in a Presidential election and this was why Rao did not visit Ralegan Siddhi in Maharashtra.

It remains to be seen whether the regional parties will be able to field their own candidate or not. If the like-minded regional parties were not able to field a candidate, due to either lack of strength or coordination among them, then it remains to be seen what decision the TRS will take.

It may be recalled here that the TRS extended support to Ram Nath Kovind in the 2017 elections when Prime Minister Narendra Modi called up and made a request. But, now relations have strained between the BJP and the TRS.

T'PURAM: With the presidential poll being billed as a prelude to the bigger battle in 2024, the Left parties have mooted the idea of the opposition fielding a strong common candidate. Both the CPM and the CPI have already conveyed their decision to others. With the Congress leadership too in favour of a consensus common candidate, the stage is set for the Opposition to field a common candidate to take on the ruling BJP front. Discussions have already begun to zero in on such a candidate. Congress leader Mallikarjun Kharge spoke to CPI central secretariat member Binoy Viswam to consult about a common candidate. "The CPI will support a commonly-agreeable candidate with secular credentials and progressive outlook," said Binoy adding that Kharge replied that Congress Party too shared the same stance. ENS

A FAIRYTALE WEDDING

Actor Nayanthara and filmmaker Vignesh Shivan tied the knot in a traditional ceremony in Mahabalipuram near Chennai on Thursday. The ceremony was attended by Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M K Stalin, along with cinema personalities, including Mani Ratnam, Atlee, Rajinikanth, Shah Rukh Khan, Chiranjeevi, Kamal Haasan, and Samantha Ruth Prabhu.

Threatened by CM's messenger, says Swapna

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

SWAPNA Suresh, who is now facing a conspiracy charge of creating a fake campaign against the Chief Minister of Kerala, submitted before the High Court that a person close to the Chief Minister had threatened her with arrest. She said so referring to the case registered against her on a complaint by former minister K T Jaleel.

In the petition, Swapna and Sarith alleged that on June 8, 2022, a person named Shaj Kiran came to their office at Palakkad around 1.30pm. She claimed Kiran was introduced by the CM's former secretary M Sivasankar as a person very close to Pinarayi and CPM state secretary Kodiyeri Balakrishnan and that he, being one of the directors of Gospel for Asia, an organisation run by K P Yohannan, handles the overseas investment of Pinarayi and Kodiyeri.

Kiran is alleged to have told Swapna and Sarith that he had come as instructed by Pinarayi to settle the issue created by Swapna by giving statements under section 164 of CrPC.

"He started pressurising the petitioners to surrender before the CM. He informed that a case has already been registered against the 1st petitioner (Swapna). And if they don't surrender before the chief minister by openly stating that she has given 164 statements at the instigation of the petitioners' current counsel and the RSS and the BJP, he threatened the petitioners with dare consequences to the effect that they will not see daylight as cases will be registered against them in such a way they will have to remain in jail for long," the petition said.

HC quashes plea, fines petitioner for hiding facts

ENS @ Bengaluru

RULING that the petition filed by the accused through the power of attorney holder (PAH), seeking to quash criminal proceedings arising out of a matrimonial dispute is not maintainable, the Karnataka High Court dismissed the petition with exemplary cost of Rs 1 lakh for "approaching the court with unclean hands".

Without going into the merits of the case, Justice M Nagaprasanna dismissed the petition filed by Samantha Christina Delfina Willis (25) and her mother Shakila Willis (56), from West Bengal, presently residing in London, UK. They executed the power of attorney before a notary public in UK and filed a petition in the city through the PAH, without seeking permission from court, and without even narrating in the petition that the PAH was personally aware of the facts of the case.

Noting that it would become easy for the accused to run away from the country and avoid appearance before court, resulting in a delay in proceedings if such practice is permitted, the court said the petition filed under Articles 226 and 227 of the Constitution, read with Section 482 of CrPC is per se not maintainable, as the accused cannot be represented by a PAH. Disclosing suppressed facts later in the rejoinder, Samantha filed an affidavit stating that the power of attorney was handed over to a family friend, Gautam Giri, in view of travel restrictions due to Covid-19 and also sought to defend the allegations made in the complaint. But there is no hint about facts and events that were suppressed while filing the petition. The court observed that the petitioners are guilty of approaching court with unclean hands. In November 2021, a complaint was filed by Samantha's husband Syed Ali Hindustani after their relationship turned bitter within five days of marriage.

ELIMINATE WATER CONTAMINATION AND SAVE LIVES

Water contamination deaths are a major concern even as the Jal Jeevan Mission (JJM) is underway across India from August 2019. Three people died in Raichur in North Karnataka of water contamination over the past week and at least 70 took ill. In October 2021, six persons died of water contamination in Makarabbi village in Vijayanagara district, also in Karnataka. According to a Lancet study, over five lakh deaths occurred across India in 2019 due to water pollution. NITI Aayog's Composite Water Management Index (CWMI) report in 2018 stated that about two lakh people die every year due to lack of access to safe water. It also estimated that about 40% of the country's projected population is likely to face water stress by 2030. Its assessment points to the disturbing fact that almost 70% of the country's underground and surface fresh water could be contaminated.

According to the Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB), urbanisation, increasing population, and unchecked encroachment are forcing water bodies to dwindle. Water pollution is mainly caused by discharge of untreated or partially treated sewage, industrial effluents, improper management of generated sewage, and maintenance of existing infrastructure. The grim situation pertaining to clean drinking water prompted the Centre to kick-start the JJM. The mission aims to provide adequate and long-term supply of quality drinking water through taps to every rural household by 2024.

With children being more vulnerable to water-borne diseases, the JJM saw a special campaign launched in October 2020 to supply potable water to schools. In his written reply in the Lok Sabha on March 21, Minister of State for Jal Shakti Prahlad Singh Patel said tap water supply is available in 8.52 lakh (83%) schools and 8.76 lakh (78.4%) anganwadi centres across India. Water is a state subject. It remains states' responsibility to ensure fool-proof methods to prevent contamination of water. Simultaneously, people, even in the remotest corners of India, need to be made aware of the safety measures they need to take to prevent the ill-effects of consuming contaminated water.

TN'S LEARNING CURVE IN SCHOOL EDUCATION

That Tamil Nadu does well on several human development indices is a point of pride for DMK and AIADMK, with the success attributed to their ideological roots in the Dravidian movement and its principles of social justice. This is evident in considering health or education. In school education, the state, according to the school education quality index, came second overall, mainly on the admirable strength of ensuring access, equity, infrastructure and the like.

However, the devil is in the details. TN fares poorly when it comes to learning outcomes, ranking 23rd out of 37 states. The recently released National Achievement Survey paints a worrisome picture, faring below the national average. While the performance across India in the NAS was affected by the pandemic, TN's performance was below par even in 2017. Experts admit there is much to be improved in the state's schools. The School Education department has received the highest allocation in the state budget for the past three years, with ₹ 36,895.89 crore earmarked in 2022–23 against ₹ 34,181 crore in the previous year. The department has also initiated a programme—Illam Thedi Kalvi—with ₹200 crore funds to address the learning gap caused by school closures during the pandemic. Acknowledging that its teachers feel overburdened with administrative work (61% according to the NAS), the state has taken some steps to reduce this, although more could be done. It has introduced a programme to improve literacy and numeracy among students in Classes 1–3. Similarly, it has taken efforts to improve the curricula quality. But this is not enough after gaps in schooling due to the pandemic. The state must now focus on the basics for students rather than the syllabus. It must address the impact of closures on mental health. In the long-term, it must analyse where the lacunae in the system lie and course correct while holding students, teachers and parents accountable through regular performance reviews. Ensuring universal access to education means little if the quality is too poor to empower.

The bloc has managed to somewhat shed the image of being just an anti-China grouping and convinced Asean countries worried about irking Beijing to come on board

QUAD SPREADS ITS WINGS, BUT HOW HIGH CAN IT SOAR?

PINAK RANJAN CHAKRAVARTY

Former Ambassador and Secretary in MEA, and Visiting Fellow at ORF, Delhi

Two in-person summit meetings of the Quad just over a year apart, one before the Ukraine war that is now into its fourth month, show that the bloc has started focusing on substantive issues, setting aside differences with India over the Ukraine war. Realpolitik has facilitated a pragmatic way forward, in light of China's challenge. A rules-based international order has to balance the interests of all countries and cannot favour any particular nation, or a group of countries, if it has to sustain itself as an equitable architecture. So far, four summit meetings have taken place. The next in-person summit will be hosted by Australia in 2023.

The Quad joint statement after the recent Tokyo Summit has stressed the commitment of member democracies to strongly support the principles of international law, which have been transgressed by China and Russia, particularly territorial integrity and peaceful settlement of disputes. The statement, which includes a clear enunciation of opposition to changing the status quo by force, strongly reinforces freedom of navigation and overflight, and resolves to act decisively together to advance these principles in the region and beyond. "We reaffirm our resolve to uphold the international rules-based order where countries are free from all forms of military, economic and political coercion," it states.

The emphasis of the four-country alliance has now moved on to deliver tangible benefits to the Indo-Pacific region, in the aftermath of the disruption and adverse impact caused by the pandemic and the Ukraine war. Quad's joint statement reaches out to Asean and the EU for their engagement with the Indo-Pacific. It also supports adherence to UNCLOS and the maritime rules-based order, specifically mentioning East and South China seas, where China has been capturing disputed islands, militarising them and obstructing freedom of navigation.

The statement also includes references to the 26/11 Mumbai and Pathankot terror attacks, making it clear that Pakistan is on the radar as a sponsor of terrorism. This will give no comfort to Pakistan.

As expected, the Quad has focused on health security and vaccine delivery, announcing greater funding for health infrastructure, resilience and vaccine production. Although it has added $50 billion for infrastructure, it is dwarfed by China's investment for BRI. But it is a good start, giving recipient countries a choice to avoid China's debt-trap diplomacy. Debt management has also been emphasised to help countries via bilateral and multilateral measures. Greater cooperation has been promised in areas like regional and digital connectivity, clean energy, and climate resilience, including disaster resilience in energy-related facilities.

Climate change mitigation and adaptation will engage the bloc, with the launch of the 'Quad Climate Change Adaptation and Mitigation Package (Q-CHAMP)'. Cybersecurity is another focus—Quad has decided to take a collective approach and defend critical infrastructure from cyber threats. Related to this commitment is the focus on Critical and Emerging technologies in the area of telecommunication and semiconductors.

In a people-oriented initiative, the Quad Fellowship programme will bring 100 students to the US for higher studies. There will be enhanced cooperation in Space-related applications and technologies to meet the demands of disaster management and sustainable methods in the Blue Economy. Exchange of information gathered from satellites for this purpose will be shared. Illegal fishing by Chinese boats continue to wreak havoc in the maritime ecosphere. A new move is the establishment of the 'Quad Partnership on Humanitarian Assistance and Disaster Relief (HADR) in the Indo-Pacific' to enhance cooperation.

On the trade front, the Indo-Pacific Economic Framework (IPEF) goes beyond the bloc and includes 13 countries—out of these, eight are Southeast Asian countries, out of which seven are Asean members. Except for India and the US, they are also members of RCEP. This initiative is a pivot back for the US and India—they walked out of TPP and RCEP respectively. Significantly, IPEF does not aim to be another FTA and get into tariff reduction negotiations.

It can, therefore, focus on long-term objectives like FDI, technology development, harmonisation of regulations, IPRs, service sector, vaccine delivery, climate action, and supply-chain resilience. India will welcome this roadmap. To recall PM Modi's words, the Quad will be a "force for good". The bloc's objective is to project itself as a security provider that gives smaller nations an alternative. Hence, it draws in Asean and the EU into its framework of cooperation.

> The US has already designated China as the primary challenge and Australia has seen a steep decline in its ties with the country.. India has also faced renewed aggression by China in Ladakh and Japan has faced encroachment in the Senkaku islands. Yet, China remains a major trading partner of all the three countries, making QUAD a delicate balancing act between security and economic interests

While FTAs/CEPAs took a back seat because of growing trade deficits with China, Japan, Korea and Asean countries, there is now a renewed attempt to negotiate FTAs with the UK and the EU. The CEPA with the UAE has been concluded and there is one with Australia awaiting finalisation. These trends indicate both geopolitical and geoeconomic shifts that are taking place in the international order. Similar agreements with GCC and Canada are on the drawing board. The IPEF fits into this pattern but details are yet to be fleshed out.

The Quad has nimbly charted a route which avoids being called out as a grouping with the only objective of constraining China. This policy has paid dividends because Asean countries, generally wary of getting on the wrong side of China, find it easier to come on board. Its reiteration of "unwavering support" for Asean is a comfort factor for members who are wary of Quad flaunting its military and security credentials, because of China's response which metastasized from "sea foam" to the current charge that Quad is an "Asian NATO". China's reaction has been one of disdain, calling the Quad a "closed and exclusive clique", "Asian NATO" and a "farce". Piqued by the progress the bloc has so far achieved, China has to digest President Biden's statement about defending Taiwan against any Chinese attack. China and Russia, together signalled their unhappiness by conducting joint patrols near Japan, the fourth in as many years, to show that they are cooperating to strengthen security in the Indo-Pacific. This shows China's discomfort with Quad which it sees as an obstacle to its declared ambition of being the sole hegemon in Asia.

The Quad represents a strategic correction among big democratic powers to accommodate the changing security and economic architecture in the Indo-Pacific region. The geopolitical reality underpinning Quad should not be forgotten. China is the primary factor providing the adhesive.

The US has already designated China as the primary challenge and Australia has seen a steep decline in its ties with the country. India has also faced renewed aggression by China in Ladakh and Japan has faced encroachment in the Senkaku islands. Yet, China remains a major trading partner of all the three countries, making Quad a delicate balancing act between security and economic interests.

While the US wants the alliance to focus on Russia's invasion of Ukraine, India is not on board to bring the topic of sanctions against Russia into the Quad. The Tokyo Summit has shown that Quad can spread its wings and fly. The future will tell if it will soar and become a truly productive organisation and live up to its potential. India's External Affairs Minister, Dr Subrahmanyam Jaishankar, in a recent op-ed article, has described the establishment of the Quad as a major diplomatic achievement of Prime Minister Modi's government.

BAPUJI : A LANDMARK LINOCUT BY NANDALAL BOSE

SRINIVAS SISTLA

Associate Professor, Department of Fine Arts, Andhra University, Visakhapatnam

The Linoleum sheet, made with cork powder and linseed oil, was invented by Englishman Frederick Walton. The sheet was primarily used as a floor mat or a substitute for wallpaper in theatres. From the 1890s, European artists used it to make printed pictures that came to be called linocuts. The medium was used as a substitute for the age-old woodcut, which is relatively laborious to make. A lino print in black colour on a white paper could be produced within an hour or so; other media like the woodcut, wood engraving, copper/zinc plate etching and lithography take more time, are strenuous and even quite expensive. It has been a custom in many Indian art institutions to introduce lino to students while they learn the basics of printmaking. But the product available now in the name of linoleum seems to be made from synthetic material.

Lack of proper documentation of linocuts makes it difficult to credit the adaptation to a particular artist in Europe and India. In German Expressionism, many famous artists and a few others who have become obscure, had produced woodcuts and linocuts during World War I (1914-1918) and also continued to make it later on. Pablo Picasso (1881-1973) produced his first linocut in 1939, and subsequently a series of multi-coloured works in the medium in 1953-54.

In India, Nandalal Bose (1882-1966) seems to be one of the earliest artists, if not the first one, to produce many linocuts like the Bapuji, widely known to connoisseurs of art. A black and white print can be easily reproduced unlike a colour print or painting and the Bapuji has been reprinted in many essays and books on Nandalal's life and works. The original handwritten copy of The Constitution of India contains a line drawing (p. 149) of the print either done by Nandalal or one of his pupils. Nandalal was a student of the renowned painter, Abanindranath Tagore (1871-1951), in the Government College of Art and Craft in Kolkata, and became the first principal of the Kala Bhavan in Santiniketan in 1922.

Mahatma Gandhi, who arrived in India from South Africa in 1915 and led the freedom struggle against the British Raj, stayed in Santiniketan for a few days in February in 1915. He again visited the place along with his wife, Kasturibai Gandhi in March 1940. The Bapuji by Nandalal, as incised in the linocut itself, was created on April 12, 1930.

Linocuts by Nandalal Bose: Bapuji

Gandhi wrote a letter on March 2, 1930, and sent it to the Viceroy, Lord Irwin, through Reginald Reynolds , the renowned critic of British Imperialism in India. In this letter, Gandhi informed him of his decision to act against the Salt Act (1882), which prohibited Indians from collecting or selling salt without paying tax. Gandhi started the Dandi March, also known as the Salt Satyagraha, on March 12, 1930 at the Sabarmati Ashram in Ahmedabad, and concluded it on April 6, 1930 at Dandi, , after walking for about 385 kilometres for 24 days with scores of followers. A Swiss photojournalist, Walter Bosshard , who was sent to India by the German Photographic Service, had taken many photos of the March, and a documentary film of the event was also made. Many newspapers in India and abroad had covered the event extensively; besides Walter, there might have been other photographers as well on the occasion.

I presume that Nandalal was in Santiniketan at the time of the Salt Satyagraha. He must have been deeply moved, like many others in the country and abroad, by the newspaper reports on the March. In my opinion, he remains unique and stands tall among the rest, for, just six days later, he had produced a linocut on the incident. Most photos of the event show Gandhi surrounded by many protesters. Hence, I presume that Nandalal had not seen any photos of the event, but created an image on his own, which shows Gandhi holding in his right hand, a thin stick which touches the ground, and extending his right leg forward to take a step. Incidentally, in the age-old Indian ethos, taking a step forward with the right leg is considered to bring forth fruitfulness. A thin horizontal line behind Gandhi's feet, in my opinion, not only demarcates the ground, but also gives a three- dimensional depth to the whole pictorial space on the print. The artist's signature in a block indicates the impact of Far Eastern Art. The main figure created with various thick and thin lines, however, is unique in style, and to the best of my knowledge, has not been repeated in any other works by the artist. Rabindranath Tagore's Bengali books titled the Sahaj Path (4 vols.) also contain a few linocuts by Nandalal. Interestingly, the name, Nandalal, is another name for infant Krishna, and the linocut in the first page of the first volume of the book shows Krishna crawling.

Step in the right direction

We must congratulate the Andhra government for conducting the Class 10 public exams this year with no mass copying. This used to happen before and would often shake the morale of students. Sometimes, parents, teachers and officials would reluctantly take part in this practice. But this time, the pass percentage was much lower. Some leaders want students who failed to get grace marks. But students should appear for the supplementary exams. It is not correct to encourage the idea of grace marks for the youth of this country.

Big fish always spared

It was interesting to see how K T Jaleel reacted to Swapna Suresh's allegations. It is known that the Opposition will always have an opinion about any issue where the ruling party has been painted in a negative light. But what really takes precedence is the fact that the big fish always manage to slip out by hiring the best lawyers, making them almost immune to any crime. One may recall that in Israel, even the Prime Minister is not spared.

Sarpa slithers away

This is with reference to 'Sarpa Kavadi' banned at Tiruchendur temple (June 9). For years, many devotees have been practising the ritual during the Vaikasi Visakham festival. They leave the venomous snake in a deserted area behind the Valli Cave. This was temporarily stopped during the pandemic but has been banned now. While this may hurt devotees, it is not safe to keep live snakes there. Forest officials should catch the snakes and release them into the forest.

A jewel in a million

Mithali Raj can be called the best batter of the world, having scored over 10,000 runs in all forms of cricket. This is despite the fact that she was rewarded less than the male cricketers. After 23 years, she has retired, leaving the game in the hands of the future generation. A precious jewel will be missed in the world of cricket.

Mithali inspires on

This is with reference to the article 22 yards, 23 years and a legacy to last forever (June 9). It is a fitting tribute to the greatest Indian woman cricketer. Women cricketers do not get the kind of accolades that a Kapil or a Sachin gets. The article corrects the anomaly and gives her what she truly deserves. She is a role model for our young girls.

GOVT PROPOSES CHANGES TO IT RULES

Draft suggests creation of grievance appellate panel, invites comments from stakeholders

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi/Bengaluru

IN an apparent move to put a leash on social media platforms, the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (MeitY) has released a fresh draft of the amendments to the Information Technology (IT) Rules 2021.

Last week, the ministry had pulled off the draft amendments within hours after releasing it, and said a new set of rules would be uploaded soon.

According to the fresh draft, it has been proposed to create an appellate body --- 'Grievance Appellate Committee'. Users will have the option to appeal against the grievance redressal process of the intermediaries, including social media intermediaries, before this new appellate body.

The Union government has also proposed the requirement by intermediaries to address certain complaints regarding removal of content from a platform within 72 hours, considering the nature of cyber space providing instant communication, outreach and virality.

The ministry notified that these proposed amendments will not impact early stage or growth stage Indian companies or start-ups.

The IT Ministry said the proposed rule requires intermediaries to respect the rights guaranteed to users under the Constitution of India. This has been made necessary because a number of intermediaries have acted in violation of constitutional rights of Indian citizens, it said.

MeitY has also invited comments from stakeholders in the next 30 days.

Stressing the importance of the new amendments, it said in a note, "As the digital ecosystem and connected Internet users in India expand, so do the challenges and problems faced by them, as well as some of the infirmities and gaps that exist in the current rule vis-a-vis Big Tech platform. Therefore, new amendments have been proposed to the IT Rules 2021, to address these challenges and gaps."

It will also arrange a formal public consultation meeting by mid-June. The broad principles in these amended rules include that unlawful and harmful information will be quickly removed when reported by users, while also providing the users a reasonable opportunity to respond in case of significant social media platforms.

EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

The new amendments have been proposed to the IT Rules 2021, to address challenges and gaps in the digital ecosystem —MeitY

MeitY has proposed four amendments

- It has proposed to bring in a new Grievance Appellate Committee
- The committee to have power to overrule any decision
- MeitY will hold a formal public consultation meeting by June-mid
- Grievances should be addressed regarding content removal from platforms within 72 hours

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mumbai/Jaipur

WITH voting for the high-voltage Rajya Sabha polls set to take place on Friday, the MLAs of rival parties herded into hotels and resorts have started returning to their respective state capitals.

While the ruling Congress in Rajasthan moved its MLAs from Udaipur to Jaipur on Thursday, the Congress MLAs from Haryana left a resort in Chhattisgarh capital Raipur and reached Delhi late in the evening. They are expected to reach Chandigarh just hours before voting.

In Maharashtra, NCP MLAs Nawab Malik and Anil Deshmukh, after being denied one-day parole by a special court, moved the Bombay High Court for relief. The HC will hear the matter on Friday.

In Rajasthan, confusion still prevailed over which way the two Bhartiya Tribal Party MLAs will vote. BTP's state chief Velaram Ghoghra issued a whip asking the MLAs to abstain from voting. The duo, who had earlier assured support to the Congress, is in a fix now. The BJP, on the other hand, is worried as an arrest warrant was issued against party MLA Chandrakanta Meghwal in a 2017 assault case. She moved court for anticipatory bail days after being asked to appear before police for questioning.

Prophet row: MEA 'denies' India assured Iran of action against culprits

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

A purported claim in an Iranian readout about NSA Ajit Doval "assuring of action against those who made insulting remarks on Prophet" has been pulled down, the Ministry of External Affairs said on Thursday. The said claim was about Doval meeting visiting Iranian Foreign Minister Hossein Amir-Abdollahian on Wednesday.

"My understanding is that what you are referring to in a readout has been pulled down," External Affairs Ministry spokesperson Arindam Bagchi said in response to a question on the issue. Bagchi, however, did not offer any reasons for the Iranian action. He also said there had been no talk about the controversy during the meeting between External Affairs Minister S. Jaishankar and his Iranian counterpart.

The Iranian action has triggered speculation that New Delhi could have been upset or uncomfortable over discussions at a closed meeting, including the purported response of the Indian NSA being made public by the Iranian side so explicitly after the Iranian foreign minister had raised the issue at the meeting.

The controversy had created a furore in the Islamic world this week, with several nations including Iran summoning Indian ambassadors and taking up the matter with New Delhi.

To reassure the world of Indian government's stance on the controversy, the MEA reiterated that the remarks made on television don't reflect the views of the government.

"We have made it pretty clear that tweets and comments do not reflect views of the government," Bagchi said. Meanwhile, in an interaction with Islamic scholars in Delhi, Abdollahiahn said that Indian Muslims have contributed to strengthening peace in the country.

"Leaders of India's Muslim community are a good example for strengthening of peace, empathy and respectful coexistence of ethnicities and faiths," Amir-Abdollahian added.

Media barons appear to have lost steam on eve of Upper House polls

SHAHID FARIDI @ New Delhi

WITH MLAs returning from resorts to state legislative assemblies to vote for Rajya Sabha candidates on Friday, two media barons — Subhash Chandra of Zee Network and Kartikeya Sharma of India News — appeared to have lost the numbers game.

Kartikeya, owner of multiple TV news channels and son of former Haryana minister and hotelier Venod Sharma, needs 31 votes to win in Haryana. He has been sponsored by the 10-member Jannayak Janata Party (JJP) headed by Dushyant Chautala. The BJP, too, will transfer its nine surplus votes to Kartikeya. He is also likely to get the votes of MLAs Abhay Chautala and Gopal Kanda. This takes his vote count to 21. He needs the support of all seven Independents and at least three Congress MLAs to crossvote in his favour.

Sources said the resourceful media family has been able to win over five of the seven Independents. Two Independents have reportedly decided to vote for Congress' Ajay Maken.

The numbers as they stand in the evening before votes indicate that Maken could sail through with 33 votes, while Kartikeya's campaign would end with 26, five short of the magic figure. The Congress has flown its flock of MLAs to a lake resort in Raipur to protect them from poaching. The party's plan seems to have worked as its MLAs appeared united in supporting official candidates. Congress MLA Kuldeep Bishnoi, who has been upset with the party leadership, met Rahul Gandhi and decided to vote for Maken.

Odds are also stacked against the other media baron, Subhash Chandra, trying his luck from Rajasthan. Chandra is contesting as a BJP-backed Independent. To win, he needs 41 votes. The BJP has 71 MLAs. With 41 voting for the party candidate, the BJP will be left with 30 MLAs, who will support Chandra. The Rashtriya Loktantrik Party of Hanuman Beniwal, which has three MLAs, has also pledged its support for Chandra. But he is still eight votes away from the winning number.

The Congress has 108 MLAs and is set to win two seats. It requires the support of Independents and legislators of other parties to win the third seat. Sources said the Congress had managed to marshal support of 126 MLAs as against 123 required to win three seats. Besides, it has managed to win over 13 Independent MLAs, two members each of CPI(M) and Bhartiya Tribal Party and one from the Rashtriya Lok Dal.

In Maharashtra, six candidates are to be elected from a field of seven. Shiv Sena's Sanjay Pawar and the BJP's Dhananjay Mahadik are locked in a tough contest for the sixth seat. A candidate needs 42 votes to win a seat. The MVA has the numbers to win three.

The BJP has 106 MLAs. It can win two on its own but has fielded a third candidate.

Twenty-nine MLAs, including Independents and members of smaller parties, hold the key to the elections of the sixth candidate.

SC ORDER ON NEET-PG COUNSELLING TODAY
The Supreme Court is set to pass an order on a plea filed by MBBS students on fresh rounds of counselling in NEET-PG-21 on Friday. The petitioners have sought fresh counselling for admissions in PG courses as 1,456 NEET seats are still vacant. A bench of Justices M R Shah and Aniruddha Bose said it would pronounce its order after the counsel for the parties complete their arguments. Additional Solicitor General Balbir Singh submitted that classes started in February and now holding classes for another 6-8 months is not feasible. He contended that the NEET 2022 teaching would also be compromised if further rounds of counselling are conducted for the previous session. ENS

INDIA-ASEAN MEET TO BE HELD SANS MYANMAR FOREIGN MIN

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIA will host the Asean Foreign ministers meet on June 16 and 17, without inviting the foreign minister of Myanmar, Wunna Maung Lwin.

According to a consensus reached by the Asean members, it has been decided that only the foreign ministers of democratically-elected governments will be invited. However, it is possible to invite an official from the Myanmar government to attend the event.

According to sources, an invite has been sent to Chan Aye, the permanent secretary of the Junta's foreign ministry, for the event, and also for a senior officials' meeting that takes place on June 15.

The Asean members, it is learnt, feel that the Junta has made no effort to involve the political leadership of Myanmar or work towards cessation of violence.

External Affairs Ministry spokesperson Arindam Bagchi on Thursday said Myanmar's participation would be based on the rules of the group. "India will host the Special ASEAN-India Foreign Ministers' Meeting on June 16 to 17 to mark the 30th anniversary of our dialogue relations and the 10th anniversary of our strategic partnership with the ASEAN," Bagchi told the media.

This will be the first time that India will host 10 foreign ministers from South East Asia, coinciding with 30 years of India-Asean partnership and 10 years of its strategic partnership with the group, which also includes Brunei, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, Malaysia, the Philippines, Singapore, Thailand and Vietnam.

The meeting is expected to provide for discussions on Indo-Pacific Economic Framework that was announced in Tokyo during the Quad summit, besides issues of connectivity, investments, supply chains and maritime security.

Meanwhile, India on Thursday took part virtually in the Asean Regional Forum Senior Officials Meeting.

Doordarshan chief to take over as Prasar Bharati CEO

Mayank Kumar Agrawal, director general of Doordarshan (DD) and DD News, has been given additional charge of chief executive officer (CEO), Prasar Bharati. The post had fallen vacant after the tenure of Shashi Shekhar Vempati ended on Wednesday. According to an order issued by information and broadcasting (I&B) ministry on Thursday, Agrawal, a 1989-batch Indian Information Service officer, will hold the charge, with effect from June 9, until further orders or till the joining of regular incumbent to the post. The decision was taken following an approval from I&B Minister Anurag Thakur. In 2017, Vempati was a part-time member of the Prasar Bharati Board before his appointment as the CEO. A three-member committee, headed by Vice President Hamid Ansari, had cleared his name for the post for a period of five years. Vempati, an IIT-Bombay alumnus, previously worked with Infosys. He is a technocrat with specialisation in corporate management, technology consulting and digital media. ENS

"Implementation of the projects shall add to Vietnam's defence capabilities," the defence ministry said.

India on its way to becoming global biotech giant: PM Modi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

LAUDING India's bio-economy for growing eight times in the last eight years, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday said the country is not too far from reaching the league of top-10 countries in biotechnology.

Modi was speaking after inaugurating the Biotech Startup Expo at Pragati Maidan. "We have grown from $10 billion to $80 billion. India is not too far from reaching the league of top-10 countries in biotech's global ecosystem," he said, adding that the role of biotechnology industry is significant for the country's development. He also mentioned the contribution of Biotechnology Industry Research Assistance Council in development of the sector.

"Trust in the skill of our IT professionals has reached new heights in the world. This is now happening for biotech too," Modi said.

He enumerated five factors behind India's growing image in biotech — diverse population and climatic zones, talented human capital, efforts for ease of doing business, increasing demand for bio-products, and the success record of biotech sector.

"In the last eight years, the number of startups in our country has increased from a few hundred to 70,000. Over 5,000 startups are associated with biotech, and 1,100 such biotech startups emerged in the last year," Modi said.

CONG 'SATYAGRAHA' ON DAY RAHUL VISITS ED

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Congress party will hold protests in front of the Enforcement Directorate (ED) offices across the country while party leaders will march with former party chief Rahul Gandhi on June 13 as he appears before the agency in the National Herald money laundering case.

The party on Thursday held a meeting of AICC general secretary and state chiefs, wherein it was decided that a 'satyagraha' will be held against Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah over misuse of investigative agencies to threaten the Opposition leaders.

In Delhi, all MPs of the party, members of Congress Working Committee, and other leaders will march from party headquarters to the ED office in support of Rahul, when he appears before ED for questioning.

Congress chief Sonia Gandhi was to make an appearance on June 9 but it was postponed due to her Covid-19 infection.

The state units have been asked to protest outside ED offices in their regions.

The case pertains to a petition filed by BJP leader and Rajya Sabha MP Subramanian Swamy in a Delhi trial court in 2012, alleging that Sonia and Rahul had maliciously acquired Associated Journals Ltd, the publisher of National Herald, through Young Indian Ltd to capture the ₹2000 crore building of Herald House located in Delhi.

Cheap and illegal firearms land in Punjab from UP, MP

They are hard to trace after crime as there is no record of the owner

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

TOUGHER arms licence rules in Punjab are spawning an illegal weapons industry in the state. A country-made pistol can cost you as little as ₹2,500 while a high-end model would come for ₹1.50 lakh. Police sources say these illegal weapons are coming in from UP and MP.

Police sources say most arms licences in the state are issued in Amritsar, Taran Taran, Bathinda, Muktsar, Sangrur, Hoshiarpur and Ferozepur.

On May 30, the Ludhiana police arrested a teenager with an illegal pistol that was manufactured in Saharanpur in UP. The police say out of the 10 firing incidents reported last month from Ludhiana, illegal weapons from UP and MP were used in half-a-dozen incidents. These weapons are used in carjacking, street fights, robberies and gang wars.

Police sources said an illegal country-made pistol is available for anything between ₹2,500 and ₹15,000. A high-end semi-automatic pistol costs around ₹50,000. "These pistols are smuggled in from Madhya Pradesh with a price tag between ₹20,000 and ₹30,000 apiece. These are sold to gangsters for upwards of ₹50,000.

Some arms dealers in the state are allegedly selling good-quality bullets in the open market. The illegal weapons are hard to trace after the crime is committed as there is no record of the owner, sources said.

In two years, the Punjab Police have busted three MP-based illegal weapon modules. In one case, Baljit Singh alias Sweety Singh was arrested for his involvement in manufacturing and supply of high-quality illicit weapons to Punjab and other states of north India.

Earlier too, the state police had unearthed two such modules from MP. In 2020, the Anti-Terrorism Squad of UP Police had arrested one arms supplier, Ashish Singh of Meerut for allegedly supplying illegal weapons to the proscribed Khalistan Liberation Force.

Attractive arms hub

Punjab Police have seized 1,349 illegal weapons between 2018 and 2020. In many cases, arms dealers from across the country were coming to the state to get illegally imported firearms

Red Corner Notice against Brar in Canada

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

BASED on the request of CBI, the Interpol on Thursday issued Red Corner Notice (RCN) against Satinderjeet Singh alias Goldy Brar, who claimed responsibility for the recent murder of Punjabi singer Sidhu Moosewala.

Brar, an active member of the Lawrence Bishnoi gang and operating from Canada, is allegedly behind the killing.

"The Red Corner Notice has been issued. The CBI liaison officer will coordinate with Interpol and a proposal will be moved through the home ministry and the external affairs ministry for extradition," a senior CBI officer said.

Earlier in the day, CBI and Punjab Police were at odds over the dates of seeking RCN. While the Punjab Police claimed they had forwarded a proposal on May 19 — much before the singer's murder — to the CBI, the latter said it received such a request a day after the murder.

Pak & militants changing Kashmir strategy: Experts

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

CAUTIONING that the recent targeted killings in Kashmir show a change in strategy by Pakistan and militants, security experts have sought measures including strengthening of the intelligence network.

Security expert and former J&K police chief Kuldip Khoda told this newspaper that targeted killings by militants is a cause of concern.

Khoda said Pakistan and militants have changed their strategy as militants were getting killed in encounters and unable to carry out major attacks on security forces.

"Militants are now resorting to target killings. They are choosing soft targets, including minority community members, off-duty police personnel and pro-India elements, as they could not hit high security targets," he said, adding that India can't allow targeted killings to go on as it creates a sense of insecurity among the people.

On the claim of the police that "hybrid militants" are involved in these attacks, Khoda said, "I differ. It is a very organised thing and directions have come from Pakistan. There has been proper planning as they are sending supplies of small arms. It is part of a strategy. Militants involved in the killings are part of a network and are being brainwashed. Intelligence agencies will have to strengthen their network to identify the modules involved in the targeted killings."

Another former J&K police chief S P Vaid said ISI has hired youths who are not listed militants and not on the radar of security forces.

Militants, he said, are resorting to target killings to counter the setbacks suffered during 'Operation All Out' during which over thousand militants have been killed. "The targeted killings are to counter the government narrative that normalcy has been restored, Pandits will be resettled, industries will be set up, tourist inflow and installation of grassroots-level democracy. Militants want to derail it," he said.

Vaid said police will have to work hard and improve their intelligence network. "Besides, they need to have good relations with common people," he added.

> SHOs and teshildars should be held accountable for the killings. They are not worth to be in the post if they don't know how militants are carrying out killings and escaping

BJP-JJP prepare to give fight to Cong in RS poll

Independent MLAs backed by the BJP -JJP coalition in Haryana have been lodged in a Chandigarh resort owned by the Badal family. The stated purpose of the sojourn is a 'training camp' for the legislators, mostly first-timers, to apprise them on the process for the RS poll. Meanwhile, the alliance top brass – with Union Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat, CM Manohar Lal Khattar, BJP state chief O P Dhankar and Deputy CM and JJP leader Dushyant Chautala – has huddled around to chalk out a plan to defeat Congress' Ajay Maken and ensure win of independent Kartikeya Sharma, son of former Congress leader Venod Sharma.

Signature campaign fails to take off

A Change.org signature campaign has been put forth by supporters of Amritsar (North) MLA and former IPS officer Kunwar Vijay Partap to elevate him as Home Minister. The AAP legislator took voluntary retirement to fight the assembly elections. His supporters have expressed resentment over him being denied a state cabinet berth. They apparently want Kunwar to be appointed home minister as law and order condition in the state is ebbing away. But with just 75 signs, the signature campaign desperately needs some traction. Former MLA Navjot Kaur Sidhu had expressed her resentment for ignoring Kunwar in the state cabinet.

Gharachon: Home to Mann's trusted aides

The most trusted lieutenants of Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann come from Gharachon village in Sangrur district of Punjab. As Gurmail Singh the AAP candidate for the by-elections of Sangrur Lok Sabha seat is the sarpanch of this village, the seat fell vacant after Mann resigned from the Lok Sabha before taking over as the CM. Also, Rajbir Singh Ghuman is the OSD of the chief minister and Sukhvir Singh his 'political adviser' belong to this little-known village. The local public is known to approach them for any work over the local MLAs. As all three of them are considered close aides of Bhagwant Mann.

Himanta expands cabinet, snubs five-time legislator

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

ASSAM Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma on Thursday expanded his 13-month-old ministry by inducting two MLAs of his party into it. The BJP leader also effected a reshuffle of the ministerial portfolios.

Jayanta Malla Baruah, a two-time Nalbari MLA, and debutant Nandita Garlosa, who was elected from the Haflong seat, were appointed as Cabinet ministers.

They were administered the oath of office and secrecy at an event held at the Sankardev Kalakshetra here. Governor Prof Jagdish Mukhi, Sarma and his Cabinet colleagues attended the ceremony.

Baruah, who was Sarma's political secretary, was given the portfolios of tourism; public health engineering and skill; employment and entrepreneurship.

Garlosa is the new power minister. She was also given the portfolios of cooperation; mines and minerals; and indigenous and tribal faith and cultural department.

Sarma snubbed five-time MLA Rupjyoti Kurmi who represents the Mariani constituency. Even as Kurmi was pinning hopes on making it to the ministry, the sleuths of the chief minister's Vigilance Cell apparently "raided" some places in his constituency in connection with alleged anomalies in the utilisation of MLA funds from 2012 to 2022.

Turncoat MLA had won on Cong ticket 4 times

Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma snubbed five-time MLA Rupjyoti Kurmi. Just months after winning the polls for the fourth straight term on the Congress' ticket last year, Kurmi had defected to the BJP, necessitating a by-election that he contested successfully. Three more ministerial berths are lying vacant, and BJP sources said they would be filled soon. Currently, the ministry has a strength of 16, including the CM.

OWAISI, 31 OTHERS NAMED IN DELHI'S HATE SPEECH FIR

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Delhi Police on Thursday lodged a fresh FIR against 32 individuals, including All India Majlis-e-Ittehadul Muslimeen (AIMIM) chief and MP Asaduddin Owaisi and Hindutva leader Yati Narsinghanand, for making "inflammatory remarks" in the wake of the earlier hate speech against Prophet Mohammad and Islam by two BJP leaders.

In all, two FIRs have been filed. The first one was against BJP's national spokesperson Nupur Sharma on Wednesday for her communal rant during a TV news channel debate, which resulted in her suspension from the party. BJP's Delhi unit media cell head Navin Jindal was simultaneously expelled from the party for his controversial tweets. The remarks lit a diplomatic firestorm the Centre struggled to contain.

Narsinghanand, who is out on bail in an earlier hate speech case, is alleged to have urged people to march to Delhi's Jama Masjid on June 17 along with the Quran and other Islamic history books. The Ghaziabad district administration asked him to cancel it.

The second FIR also names Shadab Chauhan, the chief spokesperson of Peace Party, journalist Saba Naqvi, Hindu Mahasabha office bearer Pooja Shakun Pandey, Maulana Mufti Nadeem from Rajasthan, Abdur Rehman, Anil Kumar Meena and Gulzar Ansari. Also known as 'Annapurna Maa', Pandey was recently charged for seeking a ban on Friday prayers, exhorting Hindus to take up arms and incitement to murder.

'IT DOESN'T SAY WHAT WAS OFFENSIVE'

Reacting to the development, AIMIM chief Asaduddin Owaisi tweeted saying, "In my case, FIR isn't even saying WHAT was offensive"

'Bonded candidate' stamp on certificate creates row

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

THE provisional medical degree certificate issued for the health professionals by the Chhattisgarh government-owned Pt Deendayal Upadhyay Memorial Health Science and Ayush University with the stamp "He/she is bonded candidate for state government service" has created resentment among doctors who feel they are being considered as "bonded labourers".

The Chhattisgarh Medical Board also took strong exception to the remark on the certificates issued in the name of the registrar of the university.

"We have appealed to the Governor Anusuiya Uike, who is the chancellor of the university, to take cognisance of it. This is absolutely inappropriate even on the humanitarian ground. I just wonder on what basis the university has written 'bonded candidate' on the MBBS degree," said Dr Rakesh Gupta, chairman, Chhattisgarh Medical Board.

Several doctors have expressed their annoyance over imprinting such an "objectionable remark" in the provisional medical degree certificate.

"It is an insult to write that young doctors are bonded candidates. Totally demoralising for the medical fraternity," said Dr K C Pant, senior paediatrician in Apollo Clinic in state capital Raipur.

Some young doctors took to social media stating that they, too, received such a provisional degree with the "inappropriate" remark.

It's ironic that parents are unaware about the insult being showered on their children. The quicker the remedial action, the better, the doctors said in social media.

Two tribal youth set on fire for raping minor girl in Jharkhand

RANCHI: Two tribal youths were set on fire by villagers allegedly for raping a minor girl in Jharkhand's Gumla district on Wednesday. The duo was rushed to hospital where one of them succumbed to injuries.

The girl had gone to a relative's place with her mother and aunt. While waiting for bus to return home, Sunil Oroan and Ashish Oroan, both from the girl's village, arrived there on a bike and offered to drop the girl at her home. "Instead of dropping her at home, they took her to nearby jungle and raped her," said Gumla sub-divisional police officer (SDPO) Manish Chandra Lal.

Enraged over the incident, the girl's family members and a few villagers beat up the duo and set the youth ablaze. Further investigation is on. ENS

ONE FAMILY ONE POLITICIAN

Scindia hints his son may not step into his shoes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal

EIGHT days after BJP national president JP Nadda said that party workers will get precedence over kin of present and former lawmakers in allocation of election tickets, Union Civil Aviation Minister Jyotiraditya Scindia on Thursday batted for the one family one politician policy.

In his home city Gwalior on two days tour, Scindia told journalists that his family has religiously followed the norm of just one member from the family being active in politics.

"One member from a family in active politics should be sufficient. My family has been following the principle religiously since last three-four decades. If this principle is followed strictly by all, not just a few, but all worthy people will get their rightful chance in politics," Scindia maintained.

Scindia's clear message of following one family one politician policy was enough to put to rest all speculations about his son Mahanaryaman Jyotiraditya Scindia's possible entry into politics. A couple of months back, Mahanaryaman was elected the vice-president of Gwalior District Cricket Association.

Jyotiraditya's stance also seemed to be a dig at seasoned Congress politicians in MP.

No division of state: Nadda tells Bengal unit

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

BJP national president JP Nadda, who was on his two-day visit to West Bengal, issued an instruction to party's state functionaries on Thursday that no one would raise the demand of separate statehood in Bengal as the party didn't endorse it.

"There have been examples of many of our leaders raising demand for separate statehood in the recent past. Do not raise such a demand from now. The BJP doesn't endorse such demand," Nadda reportedly told a gathering of mandal presidents.

Nadda's instruction comes at a time when a section of BJP's elected representatives have been raising the demands for statehood to different regions of the state.

BJP's Bishnupur MP Saumitra Khan had last month demanded separate statehood for tribal-dominated Junglemahal. Similarly, John Barla, the MP from Alipurduar, demanded statehood for Dooars and Hills in north Bengal.

Meanwhile, the saffron party's Kurseong MLA Bishnu Prasad Sharma on Thursday stoked the demand for bifurcation of West Bengal and said he will take up the matter with Nadda.. The Gorkha legislator from Darjeeling had last year demanded the separation of the hilly region from the state.

'Arrest the BJP leaders who made atrocious remarks'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kolkata

IN her first public reaction to recent diplomatic outrage from Gulf countries over the comments against Prophet Mohammed by some BJP leaders, West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Thursday demanded immediate arrest of those who made the "atrocious" remarks.

"I strongly demand the immediate arrest of the BJP leaders so that the unity of the country is not disturbed and people at large do not face mental agony," Mamata tweeted.

"I condemn the recent heinous and atrocious remarks by a few disastrous BJP leaders, resulting in not only spread of violence, but also division of the fabric of the country, leading to disturbance of peace and amity."

The Bengal CM also appealed all sections to maintain peace.

4 buried alive in Meghalaya landslides

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

FOUR persons, including three members of a family, were buried alive in two incidents of landslides in the West Garo Hills district of Meghalaya early Thursday morning.

Official sources said a woman and her two children died at Jewalgre village when a landslide struck their house.

The other incident at Samati village in the district claimed the life of a two-and-a-half-year-old child. Wednesday's heavy downpour in the Garo Hills region was believed to have triggered the landslides.

"We have advised people living in vulnerable areas to remain alert and shift to safer locations," Superintendent of Police Siddharth K Ambedkar said.

3 foreign fighters on Ukraine side sentenced to death

A court in self-proclaimed Donetsk People's Republic found two British citizens and a Moroccan guilty of working towards a violent overthrow of power

Expel Russia from UN agri agency: Zelenskyy

Paris: Ukraine President Volodymyr Zelenskyy on Thursday called for Russia to be expelled from the UN's Food and Agriculture Organisation, blaming Moscow for spurring the global grain crisis by invading his country. "There can't be any talks on prolonging Russia's membership in FAO," Zelensky said at a Paris meeting of the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development by video link. Active in 130 countries, the FAO's mission is to "achieve food security for all". "What is there for Russia to do (in the FAO) if they are causing hunger for at least 400 million, or potentially more than a billion people?" Zelensky said.

BAKHMUT (UKRAINE)

TWO British citizens and a Moroccan were sentenced to death on Thursday by pro-Moscow rebels in eastern Ukraine for fighting on Ukraine's side.

A court in the self-proclaimed Donetsk People's Republic found the three men guilty of working towards a violent overthrow of power, an offense punishable by death in the unrecognised republic. They were also convicted of mercenary activities and terrorism.

Russia's state news agency RIA Novosti reported that the three — Aiden Aslin, Shaun Pinner and Saaudun Brahim — are set to face a firing squad. They have a month to appeal.

The separatists had claimed that the three fighters are "mercenaries" who are not entitled to the usual protection afforded prisoners of war.

Civilians are evacuated from the city of Sloviansk in the eastern Ukraine region of Donbas on Thursday | AFP

In response, Aslin and Pinner's families said the men, who are both said to have lived in Ukraine since 2018, were "long-serving" members of the Ukrainian military. The three fought alongside Ukrainian troops. Pinner and Aslin surrendered to pro-Russian forces in the southern port of Mariupol in mid-April, while Brahim did so in mid-March in the eastern city of Volnovakha.

The Russian military has argued that foreign mercenaries fighting on Ukraine's side are not combatants and should expect a long prison term, at best, if captured. Another British fighter captured by the pro-Russian forces, Andrew Hill, is awaiting trial.

Meanwhile, Russian forces pounded the eastern city of Severodonetsk in fierce, street-by-street combat that Ukraine President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said could determine the fate of the Donbas, the country's industrial heartland of coal mines. Moscow-backed separatists have been fighting Ukrainian troops for years in Donbas and held swaths of territory before the war.

"Fierce battles continue in the city itself, street battles are taking place with varied success in city blocks," Serhiy Haidai, governor of Luhansk province. "The army of Ukraine is fighting for every street and house." Severodonetsk is part of the very last pocket of Luhansk that the Russians have yet to seize.

Zelenskyy called the painstaking fight for the city the "epicentre" of the battle for the larger Donbas, which is comprised of Luhansk and Donetsk provinces. "In many ways, it is there that the fate of our Donbas is being decided," Zelenskyy said on Wednesday in his nightly video address, which was recorded in the street outside his office in Kyiv.

Ukraine's top military official said the situation on the front line is "very difficult" and called for "very quick" weapon supplies.

Defence Minister Oleksii Reznikov said in a Facebook post that up to 100 Ukrainian troops are being killed every day. "We as a country can't afford to bleed, losing our best sons and daughters," he said.

Russia claimed it struck a training facility west of the capital, far from the front lines. Russia's Defence Ministry said it used air-launched missiles against a Ukrainian military base in the Zhytomyr region where it alleged mercenaries were being trained. AP

US House passes 'red flag' bill in gun control push

WASHINGTON

THE House approved a 'red flag' bill on Thursday that would allow families, police and others to ask federal courts to order the removal of firearms from people at extreme risk of harming themselves or others.

It's the Democratic-controlled chamber's latest response to US mass shootings and likely stands little chance in the Senate. Nineteen states and the District of Columbia currently have such 'red flag' laws.

Under the House bill, a judge could issue an order to temporarily remove and store the firearms until a hearing can be held, up to two weeks later, to determine whether the firearms should be returned or kept for a specific period. The bill passed on a mostly party-line vote of 224-202.

"We are aware we cannot do enough to save every life, and there is no one answer," said Rep Jerrold Nadler, the Democratic chairman of the House Judiciary Committee. "But we do know that taking guns out of the hands of people who pose a danger to themselves, or others, would save countless lives," Jerrold Nadler said. AP

UN: Iran's removal of monitoring cameras may scupper N-talks

VIENNA

THE UN atomic energy watchdog said on Thursday that Iran was removing 27 surveillance cameras at its nuclear facilities, warning this could be a "fatal blow" to negotiations to revive a landmark deal.

Talks began in April last year to bring the United States back to the 2015 accord, lifting sanctions, and Iran back into compliance, limiting its nuclear activities.

But negotiations have stalled since March, and raising tensions, International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) members on Wednesday passed a resolution censuring Iran over its lack of cooperation with the watchdog.

Iran has condemned the motion as "unconstructive", announcing earlier on Wednesday that it had disconnected some IAEA cameras monitoring its nuclear sites.

"What we have been informed is that 27 cameras... are being removed in Iran," IAEA chief Rafael Grossi told reporters on Thursday. "So this, of course, poses a serious challenge to our ability to continue working there."

Grossi urged Iran to engage with him "immediately".

He said if a solution was not found within three to four weeks to the issue, this would be "a fatal blow" to negotiations. Grossi said about 40 monitoring cameras remained in the Islamic republic. Wednesday's motion — approved by 30 of the 35 members of the IAEA board of governors, with only Russia and China voting against — was the first to criticise Iran since June 2020.

What we have been informed is that 27 cameras... are being removed in Iran

Rafael Grossi, IAEA chief

Iran's foreign ministry criticised the resolution — submitted by the United States, Britain, France and Germany — as a "political, unconstructive and incorrect action".

The resolution came after the IAEA said Iran continued to fail to explain adequately the previous discovery of traces of enriched uranium at three sites which Tehran had not declared. AFP

Ex-fin min resigns from Lanka parl

COLOMBO

BASIL Rajapaksa, the youngest brother of Sri Lanka's president and former finance minister, resigned from his parliamentary seat on Thursday, the second such resignation from the cash-strapped government in a month from the powerful Rajapaksa family amid massive public protest over the unprecedented economic crisis in the country.

Talking to reporters here, Basil said, "I resigned my seat to allow Sri Lanka Podujana Peramuna to nominate someone suitable." Asked if he had reempted resignation as he would be disqualified to be in Parliament through the proposed 21st Amendment (21A) to the Constitution due to his holding of both the US and Sri Lankan dual citizenship, Basil, the youngest of the Rajapaksa brothers, said it wasn't so. PTI

Miscreants attack Hindu temple in Karachi city

KARACHI

A HINDU temple has been vandalised by a group of unidentified people in Pakistan's southern port city of Karachi, the latest incident of vandalism against the places of worship of the minority community in the country.

The attack on Shri Mari Maata Mandir in "J" area within the limits of Korangi police station in Karachi has caused panic and fear among the Hindu community in the area where police were deployed to avoid any untoward incident, police said.

According to an FIR registered at the Korangi police station, five men on motorcycles stopped by the temple late on Wednesday night and inquired about the whereabouts of the caretaker, Dawn newspaper reported. When two workers who were painting the walls inside the temple told the men that the caretaker wasn't available, the suspects started pelting stones at an idol, the complainant, Sanjeev Kumar, was quoted as saying by the newspaper.

"They also threatened the workers and then fled from the crime scene," he said. "We don't know who has attacked and why." After getting information, the police reached the area and inspected the temple and inquired about the incident.

Korangi Senior Superintendent of Police Faisal Bashir Memon said the temple was located inside a hall of a house in the area and renovation work was underway there. A case against the miscreants has been registered under different sections of the Pakistan Penal Code, he said. The police are trying to obtain CCTV footage of the area to arrest the suspects as soon as possible. PTI

CIL floats tender to import 2.41 MT of coal

Govt had nominated CIL as centralised agency to augment coal supplies to state gencos and IPPs through import

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

AMID reports of coal shortage in the country, Coal India Limited (CIL) has floated an international tender to import 2.416 million tonnes (MTs) of the fuel on behalf of the state generating companies (gencos) and independent power plants (IPPs).

This is the first time India's largest coal producer issued a tender to import coal.

"In a first ever effort, Coal India Limited (CIL) on Wednesday floated an international competitive bidding e-tender, seeking bids for import of 2.416 million tonnes (MTs) of coal," said the company in a statement on Thursday.

CIL will source coal on behalf of the state generating companies (gencos) and independent power plants (IPPs) based on the indents received from them. It is for the July-September period of the current fiscal year. "There is a provision in the tender to accommodate a variation of above or below 30% of the bid quantity. The coal being sought is 5000 GAR (gross as received) thermal grade coal.

CIL to source coal on behalf of gencos, IPPs

CIL will source coal on behalf of the state generating companies (gencos) and independent power plants (IPPs) based on the indents received from them. This is the first time CIL issued a tender to import coal

As the coal shortage continues to impact the thermal power plants, the power ministry asked the state gencos to import coal for blending purposes. The ministry, in its order on May 18, 2022, also warned the power generators if orders for coal imports are not placed by May 31, 2022, the defaulter gencos will have to increase their imports to the extent of 15%. Also if blending with domestic coal does not start by June 15, the domestic allocation of the concerned defaulters' thermal power plants will be further reduced by 5%.

The government had nominated CIL as a centralised agency to augment coal supplies to state gencos and IPPs through import of coal. CIL in its Board meeting held on June 2 had given its nod for the company to proceed ahead with the issuance of two international tenders for sourcing coal from overseas, a short-term and a medium-term tender.

FOCUS OF FMCG FIRMS SHIFTS TO SMALLER PACKS

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

THE focus of FMCG firms has now shifted to smaller packs, as demand for these packs are rising across categories, including biscuits, snacks and bakery products.

Observing that price hikes and grammage reduction have reduced consumption, companies are now focusing on production of ₹5/10 price packs more than others.

Mayank Shah, senior category head at Parle Products, told TNIE they are witnessing consumers moving towards ₹10 packs across both rural and urban markets in the past few months.

"Hence, we are focusing on production of ₹10 price packs more than others. Witnessing the traction in that segment, we have improved the production capacity of ₹10 packs by 12-15% over the last two months."

According to the latest NielsenIQ report, traditional trade has seen a 4.9% volume decline led by shift towards smaller packs. Sonika Gupta, Customer Success Lead (India), NielsenIQ said that there is an evident shift by consumers to smaller pack sizes to manage external factors for both foods and non-foods.

For biscuits and bakery primarily the demand for lower unit packs of ₹10 is more, whereas for snacks, the lower unit pack of ₹30 is more in demand, Shah informed.

"At this point, it is not contributing to profitability since the margin is being affected by input cost inflation. Grammage cut and price hike of products have also not reflected positively on consumption patterns. What can be leveraged, though, is sales maximisation," he said.

Arvind Chintamani, Vice President, Marketing, Colgate-Palmolive India, in the company's latest investor call for the financial year ended March 31, 2022, said the firm will continue to focus aggressively in this environment on the low unit packs of ₹10 and ₹20.

Chief Financial Officer of Colgate-Palmolive India M.S. Jacob said the margin is not a function of unreasonable pricing. "A big chunk of our sale comes from ₹10 and ₹20 packs where we are not changing the pricing. The pricing is restricted to the higher sales where elasticity is a little bit lower than for the lower packs."

PSEs should improve professionalism, efficiency: FM

DILIP SINGH KSHATRYA @ Ahmedabad

FINANCE Minister Nirmala Sitharaman has called on public sector enterprises (PSEs) to improve their professionalism and efficiencies, as the government opens up nearly every area to the private sector.

Inaugurating an exhibition by 75 Central Public Sector Enterprises (CPSEs) at the Mahatma Mandir, Gandhinagar, in Gujarat on Thursday, the finance minister said, "It is now time for PSEs to show that you are very keen to improve on your professionalism as much as you have done between 1991 and now. And where possible, in order to bring down the overheads, it might be worth looking at private participation together with what you are doing. There are several aspects where you can benefit from the efficiency of the private sector,"

Sitharaman Said, "The public sector undertakings (PSUs) in strategic sectors should look at scaling up possibilities, use of technology, and set fresh benchmarks for PSUs around the world."

She said that PSUs must derive maximum benefit from newer tech to scale up their efficiencies in the next 25 years to go global and set a fresh benchmark for public sector enterprises anywhere in the world.

"The identified core sectors in which public sector would remain will have to now look at opportunities, newer areas of development, scaling up possibilities and looking at ways in which you can benefit from web 3.0, industrial revolution 4.0, deep-diving into deep data," Sitharaman said. As per the Public Sector Enterprises policy, 2021, strategic sectors where the government intends to keep a bare minimum presence include energy, telecom, power, banks, and minerals. She asked the Department of Public Enterprises (DPE) to engage with PSEs in strategic sectors.

Experts at odds on RBI's inflation forecast for FY23

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has projected an inflation of 6.7% for the financial year 2023, 100 basis points more than what it had predicted earlier.

However, experts are divided on the RBI's inflation forecast. While some opine that the apex bank has been consistently underestimating the inflation risk, others think RBI's forecast may be true amid uncertainties on the global front.

According to Nomura, RBI has been consistently underestimating inflation risks for past 18 months. It said the inflation may touch 7.2% in the current fiscal due to higher food, fuel and input prices. It expects RBI to revise up its inflation forecast again in August.

"Despite the government's actions on cutting the fuel excise duty, we see higher inflationary pressures from rising food price inflation, a pending rise in electricity tariffs, the continued passage of higher input costs from firms to consumers and other second-round effects (house rents, wages, minimum support price hikes)," said Nomura.

Meanwhile, Suyash Chaudhary, head, fixed income, IDFC Mutual Fund, said RBI's Consumer Price Inflation (CPI) forecast for H1 FY23 is higher than their forecast and for H2 it is lower.

"The market may not have any reason to question RBI's near term forecasts given that it seems to be accounting for most of the known inflationary pressures over H1. H2 is too far in the future and therefore subject to that much more forecasting uncertainties," Chaudhary said, adding that after an extraordinarily large commodity price shock as being witnessed now, the pace of unwind ahead will be that much harder to model for.

Private 5G to be source of revenue for govt: Cos

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

A day after telecom service providers (TSPs) urged the government not to provide 5G spectrum directly to the private enterprises citing huge loss to the exchequer and sub-optimal utilisation of the scarce resource, private enterprises called their concern a "misconception".

They claimed it will in-fact become an additional source of revenue for the government. Broadband India Forum (BIF), which has members like CISCO, Amazon, Microsoft and Intel, said there will be no revenue loss to the government due to direct spectrum allocation as the private enterprises will buy spectrum at a price to be fixed by the government. "In the present scenario, majority of the enterprise revenues of TSPs would be through external network services, which comprise voice and data communications. Captive usage in the current situation would only contribute a minor share in processes/applications like robotics and automation, due to challenges in delivering the required SLAs through public networks. The speculated loss in revenues for telcos via enterprise services is a misplaced one," BIF said in a statement. Telecom regulator Trai in its recommendations on 5G spectrum auction suggested the Department of Telecom (DoT) should allow enterprises to build private 5G networks. However, the move was not welcomed by the telcos who urged the government not to allot spectrum directly to private enterprises. Many believe this bone of contention between the telcos and enterprises is the reason that the government hasn't come up with an auction yet. Cellular Association of India (COAI), which represents private telcos, is of the view if the government allots 5G spectrum directly to private enterprises, it will cause huge loss to the exchequer.

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

VIDEO conferencing platform Zoom has collaborated with Microsoft Teams and now the users of both platforms can use each other's video platforms. Also, meetings created in Teams will appear on one's Zoom account.

"We help companies collaborate with the existing system as much as possible. As we go ahead, it's across platforms and devices," Sameer Raje, General Manager and Head, India and SAARC, Zoom, said.

He added that with Zoom Rooms, organisations can re-enter the office safely and support their hybrid workforces.

"The world today is more about technology. Collaboration will continue and evolve and new technologies such as AI/VR are going to come in and this will be enhanced," Raje said, adding that Zoom Rooms can be used and enhanced across sectors such as BFSI, pharma and education.

Zoom, which employs over 6,000 people globally, is planning to hire more employees in India. The firm has a tech centre in Chennai and R&D centre in Bengaluru. Both offices contribute to the global platform.

The platform has introduced new features such as Smart Gallery, where one can leverage AI to create individual video feeds of in-room participants, and Zoom Room Controller, a feature that allows users to start, stop and control Zoom Rooms meetings from their paired personal mobile devices. The company in the first quarter of this year clocked revenue of over $1 billion driven by its success in Enterprise, Zoom Rooms and Zoom Phone that reached 3 million seats during the quarter.

April, May see job shift from agri to industry, services: CMIE

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IN an interesting trend in employment, there has been a big shift from agriculture to industry and services in the past two months.

In April, employment in agriculture fell by 5.2 million. But, industry added 5.5 million and services added 6.7 million, as per Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy (CMIE).

As a result, net employment increased by 7 million in April. In May also, agriculture shed nearly 9.6 million jobs. At the same time, Managing Director and CEO of CMIE Mahesh Vyas in his analysis says industry absorbed 10 million and services another half a million. "Net employment, therefore, increased this time by a relatively modest 1 million," he said. Cumulatively, Vyas adds, over April and May of 2022 agriculture shed 14.7 million jobs. Industry provided 15.6 million jobs and services provided another 7.2 million jobs and as a result, approximately 8 million net additional jobs were created in the past two months.

"Industry and services harness labour more productively than agriculture and therefore there is reason to cheer this recent transition," he said.

The analysis notes that within industry, the absorption of additional labour is slightly in favour of the manufacturing industries compared to the construction sector. According to CMIE data, In 2021-22, manufacturing accounted for 32% of all employment in industry and construction accounted for another 65% with the rest absorbed by utilities. "Of the incremental jobs in industry during April and May 2022, 34% to manufacturing and 65% went to construction."

Industry and services harness labour more productively than agriculture and therefore there is reason to cheer this recent transition —Mahesh Vyas, MD & CEO of CMIE

Sailor accuses coach of not 'behaving well'

FIROZ MIRZA/INDRANEEL DAS
@Chennai

SHE competed in the Allianz Regatta/Hempel World Cup Series held in the Netherlands from May 31 to June 5. Her name is also there in the current entry list for the upcoming The Kieler Woche scheduled in Germany from June 18 to 26. However, the next few days are not going to be easy for the Indian sailor, especially after she filed a complain with the Sports Authority of India accusing the coach of making her uncomfortable.

The country's sailors are currently on an exposure camp in Germany and the coach has accompanied them. He was appointed by the Yachting Association of India (YAI).

Following the instruction from the SAI, the YAI on Thursday formed a committee comprising officers from the Indian Navy to investigate the issue. It is learnt that the committee members have spoken to both the sailor and coach. Incidentally, the coach in question is a three-time Olympian and also coaches the Indian Navy team.

According to YAI, the report would be ready and sent to SAI, who wanted a report and we have heard all parties and will submit report by Thursday/Friday. Also, we have to say that it's more about mental pressure and has nothing to do with sexual harassment. "The association also said that the sailors did not send a written complain to YAI earlier. It was sent to the parental club."

Miller takes South Africa home in Delhi

AGENCIES @ New Delhi

DAVID Miller carried his sensational IPL form to international cricket as South Africa made a mockery of the Indian bowling attack to gun down their highest ever run-chase and race to a seven wicket win in the opening T20 here on Thursday. Rassie Van der Dussen and Miller shared an unbeaten 131-run stand to chase down the target with ease.

India had posted 211 for four with the help of Ishan Kishan (76 off 48 balls), skipper Rishabh Pant (29 off 16) and Hardik Pandya (31 off 12). However, it was not meant to be as the Indians were outdone by the brilliance of Miller and van der Dussen.

South Africa skipper Temba Bavuma (10) and Quinton de Kock (22) were off to a flyer as they raced to 22/0 in the first two overs. However, Bhuvneshwar Kumar bowled a brilliant leg-cutter to dismiss Bavuma. Dwaine Pretorius (29 off 13) and de Kock then took leg spinner Yuzvendra Chahal and Hardik to the cleaners before Miller took charge. Brief scores: India 211/4 in 20 ovs (Kishan 76, Shreyas 36, Parnell 1/32) lost to SA 212/3 in 19.1 ovs (Rassie van der Dussen 75 n.o, David Miller 64 n.o).

Stars set for Chennai heat

Exciting week ahead as Inter-state senior national athletics begin today

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

AS hundreds of athletes started their rituals — warm-ups and training — wafts of sea breeze lowered the afternoon temperature to some kind of comfortable. In the opposite corners of the Jawaharlal Nehru Stadium, two athletes were training. Both with an objective of improving their performances and alter the marks against that column PB (personal bests).

The Inter-state senior national athletics championships starting from Friday assumes significance as athletes hoping to do an encore at World Championships in Oregon would try and impress the Athletics Federation of India coaches and selectors.

For those trying to get into the India team for the Commonwealth Games, this would act as a platform that has attracted a sprinkling of stars for the five-day event. Because of the heat during the day, and humidity in the evening long and middle distance events have been slotted in the morning including 3000m steeplechase — before 9am — while marquee events like 400m and 100m are in the evening.

As evening settled down, Mohinder Singh Dhillon was walking languidly towards the throwing circles (there are two) with a bag in his hand that has that 16 pound iron ball. Trudging close to him was his ward Tajinder Pal Singh Toor with his bag hanging on his shoulder. His left biceps were taped and the scar on his left wrist keeps reminding of the surgery he had undergone after the Olympics. "No pain and I am fit," said Tajinder while showing his wrist.

His coach takes out the ball and with Punjabi songs blaring from his music system, he starts practising. He has already qualified for the World Championships last year, but a good performance is what the coach and his ward are looking forward to. "We are looking at something more than 20m," said Mohinder Singh. Tajinder had a good training session in Turkey.

"We had a very good session there. Since the weather too was quite comfortable we could train any time of the day. He has started throwing around 20.40m and we are hoping to do better before the worlds." Their final push would be for the Commonwealth Games.

In the other corner, young Priya Mohan was going through her training before the heats on Friday. Her coach Arjun Ajay is quietly watching each of her movements. Just back from a short stint in Europe, the two are getting into some kind of a rhythm before targeting the world standard here at the nationals.

"It was not a very good trip as we struggled with the food," said coach Ajay. Paris is where the two really had tough time to adjust. "At least we know what to expect when we go there next time (2024 Paris Olympics). There was a lot of pork and beef and she doesn't eat. So her performance also dipped."
